BI-STATE AGENCY SETS CONDITIONS FOR OPERATING TRANSIT SYSTEM

Must Be Recommended by Survey Under Way and Must Face No Objections From Local Governments.

The Missouri-Illinois Bi-State Development Agency is willing to operate a unified mass transit system for the St. Louis area provided two conditions are met, Charles M. Roos of Belleville, vice chairman of the agency, said today.

The conditions are that a survey now being conducted by a firm of transit specialists must recommend Bi-State as the best agency for the job, and that no objection to Bi-State be voiced by any major local government in the area.

"We do not want to get into a fight with other agencies," Roos told a reporter. "We know Bi-State is legally able to do the job, and if it is determined that we can do the job better than individual communities, we are willing to take it on."

The survey, being conducted by W. C. Gilman & Co., which earlier made a study of traffic and transportation in St. Louis and St. Louis county, is expected to be completed early next month, Roos said. Bi-State hired the firm last July to extend its study to the East Side.

Delays Action on Bill.

Roos reported on Bi-State's position yesterday to the aldermanic public utilities committee, which is considering an administration bill for municipal ownership by St. Louis of transit facilities. Alderman Raymond Leisure (Dem.), Seventh Ward, chairman of the committee, announced that action on the bill will be deferred until the Gilman report is made public.

Roos told the committee that Bi-State would assure that all union rights of present employes of private transit systems would be preserved, if the agency takes over mass transit.

Bi-State, a tax-free body, could devote transit income now required for state and federal income taxes to improvement and expansion of service. St. Louis County Supervisor James H. J. McNary has advocated that the agency operate the area's mass transit facilities.

Bi-State must finance its purchases with revenue bonds, payable only from revenues derived from the facilities purchased, since the agency may not, under terms of its bi-state compacts, issue general obligation bonds.

Discrimination Measure.

In other Board of Aldermen action yesterday, a bill to prohibit racial or religious discrimination in places of public accommodation was introduced by 10 aldermen. The bill also would prohibit operators of restaurants, hotels and similar establishments from segregating customers.

The measure would prohibit posting or circulating of any written or printed advertisement to the effect that accommodation is refused or denied persons because of their race, color, religious beliefs, ancestry or national origin.

Under terms of the bill, its administration would be the responsibility of an Anti-Discrimination Division of the St.

Eisenhower Charges Kennedy 'Distorts Image of America'

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER firing oratorical blast, in speech at Philadelphia last night, at Democratic critics for "downgrading" the nation militarily and economically.

NIXON ELATED OVER SUPPORT BY EISENHOWER

Immediately Seizes on President's Speech—Calls It Great Political Address.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WITH NIXON IN ILLINOIS, Oct. 29—Bolstered by President Eisenhower's entrance into his campaign, Vice President Richard M. Nixon moved into the suburban Chicago area today, stepping up his attacks on Senator John F. Kennedy.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, reported that the Vice President was "greatly elated" by the support Mr. Eisenhower gave him in a nationally televised speech last night.

Klein quoted Nixon as saying, "I thought it was one of the great political speeches of recent years. I was deeply complimented by the President's words on my behalf."

Political observers predicted that Mr. Eisenhower's active entrance into the presidential campaign would give Nixon's drive for the White House a powerful boost.

In his address, at a rally in Philadelphia, the President praised Nixon lavishly.

Seizes on Statements.

Nixon seized on the President's statements in a speech at Davenport, Ia., last night only a few minutes after Mr. Eisenhower completed his television appearance. The Vice President delayed his speech by about 45 minutes in order to watch the President's address.

"The President spoke much too generously of my qualifications for office," Nixon said with an air of modesty. Addressing a capacity crowd of about 4000 persons gathered in the Masonic auditorium, he said:

"As the President so well said tonight, anyone who says America has been standing still has a hole in his head."

In a reference to Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee in the last two presidential elections, Nixon added, "the last candidate who ran against the President had a hole in his shoe.

"Since then things have been going so well people can get their shoes half-soled." His remark drew a loud burst of President in Strong, Partisan Speech Puts Self in Forefront of Nixon Drive.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29 — With a partisan speech such as he has rarely made, President Eisenhower yesterday put himself in the forefront of the campaign to elect the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

While he stopped short of naming Senator John F. Kennedy, there could be no doubt that it was the Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Eisenhower was accusing of having "cruelly distorted the image of America" and causing the Soviet propaganda press to report his speeches in gleeful triumph.

The President spoke at a dinner meeting in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel ballroom put on by the Nixon-for-President Committee of Pennsylvania. Mr. Eisenhower accused Kennedy of encouraging the recent speculation in gold and threatening the value of the dollar with his promises of big spending.

Interrupted With Cheers.

Except in the congressional campaign two years ago, when he attacked the Democrats as "reckless spenders," the President has seldom, even in his own campaigns, gone so far. The intensely partisan audience interrupted him with cheers and applause 29 times.

The President's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, hinted that Mr. Eisenhower would make more than the two additional political talks already scheduled. One is to be at a rally with Vice President Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge in New York next Wednesday, and the other definitely set is a television appeal on election eve.

It appeared that, perhaps in response to reports that the Nixon campaign is sagging, the President means to go all out in the last week to put over the Republican ticket.

Correction Demanded.

The statements that have cruelly distorted the image of America show an "amazing irresponsibility," the President said. "They demand from me emphatic correction."

"This week Pravda, one of Moscow's propaganda newspapers, reproduced speeches of American politicians bewailing alleged weaknesses of our country. The Soviet leaders are gleefully quoting these same speeches in their effort to prove that our influence with other governments of the world is shrinking."

Several times the President

A Reminder: Standard Time To Return at 2 A.M. Tomorrow

The return of standard time at 2 a.m. tomorrow will permit St. Louis area residents to get back the hour of sleep they lost last April 24 when clocks were turned ahead one hour to mark the start of daylight saving time.

Most residents will turn their clocks back one hour before retiring tonight. After tonight, taverns must close at 1:30 a.m. Sundays. They have been serving until 2:30 a.m. Sundays while daylight time was in effect.

Schedules of radio and television networks, airlines, bus lines and eastern railroads will be adjusted to the new time.

HUGE CROWDS DELAY KENNEDY MOTORCADE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Senator Arrives for Philadelphia Speech at 2 A.M., 5 Hours Late—Hand Bruised From Shaking.

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA, Oct. 29 (AP)—Senator John F. Kennedy carried his presidential campaign in Pennsylvania today to Philadelphia's suburbs.

He started off about 2 a.m. with a speech to a $25-a-plate dinner under a tent on a rain-drenched golf course.

Kennedy hit hard on unemployment, the problem of economically depressed areas, and the plight of the Iron Curtain countries.

He had landed in a downpour at Philadelphia International Airport, drove 20 miles to the Aronimink Country Club to keep a date for which he was nearly five hours late.

Kennedy told his listeners he had started out at 8 a.m. yesterday—18 hours earlier.

"I am doing this because I believe it is an important election," he said in explanation of the pace he was maintaining.

In the controversy over whether American prestige is declining or not (Vice President Richard M. Nixon has insisted it is at "an all-time high" and Kennedy has said it is declining), the Massachusetts Senator said today, "No more unwarranted attack has ever been made on our prestige and military posture" than that Nixon made in the 1952 campaign.

Kennedy quoted Nixon as having said that under the Truman Administration "this nation has lost its military superiority . . . and the people of the world are 5 to 1 against us instead of being 9 to 1 on our side as was the case when the war ended."

Kennedy made the charge at a rally at the Lawrence Park shopping center in a Philadelphia suburb.

Nixon and the Republicans are unwilling to entrust the people with the real facts about where we stand with respect to prestige abroad, defense and space and the national economy, Kennedy asserted.

In a day and night motorcade yesterday in Pennsylvania's northeastern areas, which are suffering chronic economic ills and heavy unemployment, Kennedy was almost overwhelmed by huge crowds that stormed around for a chance to shake his hand.

Hand Bruised and Swollen.

By the time he reached Scranton last night he had a bruised, swollen and slightly scratched right hand that attested, as he said, that coal miners "really know how to shake hands."

Along the way, Kennedy stressed economic issues, though he also took a dig at Nixon's recent pledge that if elected, he will visit eastern European nations behind the Iron Curtain to carry a message of freedom and hope.

Kennedy said that in the 1952 presidential campaign, when Mr. Eisenhower first was elected, the Republicans talked of liberating the Iron Curtain nations and he added:

"What the people of eastern Europe need are not parades. They need a strong America, committed to freedom here and around the world."

Kennedy lagged behind schedule on his motorcade yesterday as dense crowds slowed his caravan. Just to cover the 17 miles from Wilkes-Barre to Scranton took 2½ hours.

NIXON HALTS TV NEGOTIATIONS, DEMANDS APOLOGY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (UPI) —Vice President Richard M. Nixon today halted negotiations for a fifth television debate with Senator John F. Kennedy and said there could be no further discussion of plans without an apology from Kennedy.

The action, taken through Nixon's negotiator, Fred C. Scribner Jr., practically killed the already dim possibility that arrangements would be made for another debate Monday night.

Kennedy's camp immediately rejected the demand for an apology.

Scribner revealed the Republican attitude in a telegram to J. Leonard Reinsch, who has represented Kennedy in the negotiations.

Scribner objected to Democratic charges that the Republicans had not negotiated in good faith and to Kennedy's demand yesterday that Nixon give a final answer by tonight.

Wreckage of Northwest Airlines plane is scattered over side of mountain following flaming crash in which 12 were killed near Missoula, Mont., yesterday.

CAUSE IS SOUGHT IN PLANE CRASH IN WHICH 12 DIED

Northwest Airlines Craft Hit Montana Mountain — Wreckage Over Wide Area.

FRENCHTOWN, Mont., Oct. 29 (AP)—Investigators sought today for an explanation of the crash of a Northwest Airlines plane that struck a mountainside yesterday, killing all 12 persons aboard.

The eight passengers, three crew members and an off-duty stewardess died in the burning wreckage which was scattered over a quarter-mile area.

Flying low in cloudy weather, the four-engine DC-4 airliner bound for Minneapolis from Portland, Ore., was due to make an instrument landing less than 20 minutes later in Missoula.

"As the plane headed toward the mountain," said Dave Anderson, a hunter who saw the crash, "it winged over on its back and crashed upside down against the mountain."

The Civil Aeronautics Board said four teams of investigators would be sent to the scene, aided by representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency.

There was no indication of the cause of the crash.

Almost within sight are an emergency landing strip and a small wheat field on which a plane might have landed.

The airliner normally carried a crew of three but an extra stewardess had ridden from Portland. The plane's capacity was 50 passengers.

The victims were identified by Northwest Airlines in St. Paul as Capt. James R. Perkins of Spokane, Wash.; First Officer Harry C. La Bart of Bellevue, Wash.; Stewardess Ethel Marie de Freese of Spokane; Stewardess Eva Louise Kight of Spokane, and passengers A. P. Martinelli of Spokane; B. Leonard of Salem, Ore.; C. W. Johnson of Spokane; A. W. Jensen of Alexandria, Va.; R. Anderson of Los Angeles; Betty Hurl of Phillipsburg, Mont.; her son, John Hurl, and J. A. Deuton of Portland, Ore.

MALAYA PREMIER SAYS HIGH INCOME HELPED BEAT REDS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaya said here yesterday that raising the standard of living in Asia is the best method of combatting Communism there.

"My country has the highest per capita income in Asia and it has helped us in our fight with the Reds," Rahman said. He said July 16 saw the end of a bitter 12-year war against Communist forces in Malaya, but, he said:

"It is just a matter of time before the Reds try a comeback in my country."

TWA AIRLINER RUNS INTO BIRDS BUT LANDS SAFE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP)—A Trans World Airlines plane was damaged last night when it flew into a flock of birds.

A TWA spokesman said the plane suffered only minor damage and returned safe to Greater Pittsburgh airport with its crew of three and 22 passengers unharmed.

The spokesman said the plane, TWA flight 462 from Pittsburgh to Newark, N.J., was cruising at about 5000 feet when it struck the birds northeast of Butler, Pa., 50 miles north of Pittsburgh. The spokesman said he thought the birds were ducks or geese.

The impact caused minor damage to the nose and to the wing and fuselage on the left side of the two-engine Martin Skyliner, the spokesman said.

He said the pilot, Capt. Samuel Marianni, returned to the airport near Pittsburgh with normal power and landed. Neither of the plane's engines nor propellers was damaged, the spokesman said.

SOCIALIST DEPUTY IN WEST GERMANY ARRESTED AS SPY

BONN, Oct. 29 (AP)—A Socialist deputy, member of the West German Bundestag's defense committee, has been arrested on suspicion of passing secret documents to a Communist espionage agent, the Interior Ministry said today.

The deputy was identified as Alfred Frenzel, a member of the lower house of Parliament since 1953. The interior Ministry said he has made a confession.

A government spokesman said Frenzel was arrested in the Parliament building by security agents led by Attorney General Max Guede.

Deputies normally enjoy parliamentary protection but the Interior Ministry explained immunity is void if a suspect is caught red-handed. It said Frenzel was observed passing material to what it called an agent of an Eastern secret service. The agent also was arrested.

The arrests apparently took place last night.

PASSENGERS SEIZE PLANE IN CUBA, FLEE TO U.S.

Army Guard Killed, Pilot and Boy Wounded in Airborne Struggle.

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 29 (UPI) — Anti-Castro passengers overwhelmed armed government guards on a Cuban airline plane today and forced the crew to fly it to Key West.

One army guard was killed, the pilot was injured and a boy of about 12 was wounded as passengers shot it out in the air with Castro troops. The plane landed safe.

Several dozen passengers were aboard the DC-3 operated by a nationalized Cuban airline, Aerovias Q, which took off shortly after 7 a.m. from a Havana military airport headed for Cuba's Isle of Pines.

The island, off Cuba's southern coast, is site of a major political prison operated by Fidel Castro's regime. First reports suggested the possibility there were political prisoners aboard the aircraft.

One account said the pilot announced to passengers he was taking the plane to America. Another report said a passenger invaded the cockpit with a pistol and others, apparently in on the plot, tried to take control of the cabin.

At 8:45 a.m. the DC-3 came in to Key West airport. There was no radio warning of the approach, but the landing was normal. Not until the injured and the other occupants emerged was there any indication of the drama which had taken place in the air.

The pilot walked out with his right arm shattered by a bullet. Passengers helped the young boy off the plane and pointed out the body of the dead guard inside.

PROOF OF CASTRO WEAPONS PUSH IS PROMISED BY STATE DEPT.

Note Urges 6-Nation Group to Get Going on Inquiry Into This Country's Dispute With Havana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—United States authorities plan to make public next week what they said will be proof backing up State Department charges that the Soviet bloc is shipping large amounts of arms to Cuba.

The State Department made the charges late yesterday in a note to Secretary General Jose A. Mora of the 21-nation Organization of American States. The note asked that the special OAS six-nation committee set up last August to look into the United States-Cuban dispute get started on the job.

The United States has signified its willingness to co-operate in a committee inquiry. Cuba has not. The committee is made up of Venezuela, Mexico, Brazil, Columbia, Chile and Costa Rica.

About the same time, the Pentagon disclosed that 1450 United States Marines will be given shore leave this weekend at the United States Navy base at Guantanamo bay in eastern Cuba. The present Marine strength there is reported about 300.

Will Leave Monday.

The Pentagon said the Marines from the assault ship Boxer, now on a Caribbean training exercise, were going to Guantanamo purely for rest and recreation and would leave the base Monday.

The public announcement was designed to blunt in advance any allegations that aggressive intent was involved. Cuban propaganda has been predicting an invasion.

Despite Pentagon disclaimers, some observers also felt that the move signified Washington's continued determination to hold the Guantanamo base and that the strength of the weekend detachment would not be lost on Latin Americans.

The complaint to the OAS marked the first time that the United States officially has accused the Soviet bloc of sending military supplies and technicians to the Government of Premier Fidel Castro.

If Cuba formally refuses to co-operate with the OAS inquiry, United States strategists figure this will put the onus on Castro and will be a step toward getting the OAS to act jointly against him.

The United States note said, "There is ample reason to believe that the Cuban Government is using its continued false charges against the United States and other American governments to provide an ostensible justification for continuing arms procurement and concomitantly to divert attention from military preparations within Cuba."

Cites 'Notorious Assistance.'

It declared:

"With the notorious assistance of extra - continental powers, specifically those of the Soviet bloc, Cuba is expanding rapidly its capacity to give armed support to the spread of its revolution in other parts of the Americas." It added that the Soviet-aided arms build-up "raises the grave question as to the ultimate intentions of the Cuban Government."

The note said Cuba's attempt to identify the United States with domestic Cuban resistance movements "adds to the hazards of the situation in view of the Soviet Union's bellicose and unwarranted threats of intervention in behalf of the Cuban Government against the United States."

Cuba, it said, "has indicated willingness to accept this proffered Soviet assistance."

Figures Not Available.

Because of Castro's secrecy covering the unloading of ship cargoes and around military bases, United States experts were unable to give exact figures on the amount of arms arriving from the Communist bloc.

Described as amounting to many thousands of tons, it was said to include small arms—automatic weapons, light tanks, light artillery, mortars and howitzers.

Policemen Overdo Duty in Feud With Boss, Motorists in Middle

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (UPI)—New York motorists were seeing green today, charging they were caught between the police commissioner and the policemen on the beat.

Green is the color of tickets issued to parking violators. For two days far more than the usual number of cars have been ticketed in what the New York Automobile Club called an act of vengeance by policemen.

Nub of the controversy to which the motorists suddenly find themselves a party is dispute over Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy's bar on "moonlighting" — the holding down of a second job — by policemen. Kennedy says it is illegal.

At first motorists felt lucky in that fewer parking tickets this week were issued in what Kennedy termed a "slowdown" in protest against this order.

Then when Kennedy aired his slowdown charge, the number of parking tickets suddenly increased. On Thursday the number was 53 per cent higher than what it had been on the same day last year.

Auto club president William J. Gottliem, in a wire to Major Robert F. Wagner, said: "Motorists are being caught in a power play between the commissioner and his force . . . we urge you to restore sanity and equity to law enforcement on our streets."

A policeman who wanted to remain unidentified said: "Tickets they told us to give and tickets we are giving. It's too bad if the public gets hurt.

RUSSIA TELLS HAMMARSKJOLD TO HELP FREE U.N. SPY SUSPECT

Espionage Case Brought Up in Legal Committee — American Answers Tirade by Moscow Delegate.

© New York Times News Service

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 29—The Soviet Union has demanded that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrange for the release of a Russian United Nations official arrested by the United States on spy charges.

The Russians denounced the arrest of Igor Yacovlevich Melekh as a "dirty political provocation."

The spy case erupted yesterday in the usually tranquil Legal Committee of the General Assembly when P. D. Morozov halted a speech to launch an angry tirade against the arrest.

His remarks brought a protest from Charles Rosenbaum, Denver lawyer who represents the United States in the committee. Objecting that it was improper to raise the matter in the committee, Rosenbaum charged the Russians were trying to turn the body into a court of law.

Protection of Law.

He suggested it would be advisable not to comment on Melekh's guilt or innocence but wait until his trial "with all the protections which our law accords to an accused."

The Soviet attack in the committee followed a protest Thursday night by Valerian A. Zorin, chief delegate, soon after the Federal Bureau of Investigation picked up Melekh and a German, Willie Hirsch. The men were charged with trying to obtain aerial photographs and maps showing military installations in Chicago.

Zorin telephoned Andrew W. Cordier, executive assistant to Hammarskjold. Zorin later told reporters that the arrest had been contrived by Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, to justify the United States U-2 spy flights over Soviet territory.

In Washington, the State Department told the Soviet embassy that as a U.N. employe, Melekh "does not possess diplomatic immunity and that he therefore is not immune from arrest on the charges."

Press officer Lincoln White said the department also told embassy consular officer Boris Belousov that Soviet embassy officials could see Melekh "in accordance with accepted international practice."

Visit Permitted.

This permission was granted even though the Soviet Union has prevented United States Moscow embassy officials from seeing two American flyers held after an RB-47 photo-reconnaissance plane was shot down off the Soviet north coast July 1. White explained, "two wrongs do not make a right."

Accordingly, two Soviet officials, Yuzi Volisky and Nikolai Reznichneko, visited Melekh for 15 minutes at the federal house of detention in New York City.

Melekh, who is chief of the Russian language section of the Office of Conference Services, was described by co-workers as a quiet, unobtrusive man with an excellent command of English. He was responsible for the translation of documents into Russian.

The post is that of a senior official with a salary of $10,000 to $11,000 a year. Only 12 other Soviet citizens hold equal or higher rank in the international staff.

Soviet delegates and Premier Khrushchev have charged that the staff has been dominated by high-level officials from the United States and Allied countries and that Eastern Europe is under-represented.

In denouncing Melekh's arrest in the Legal Committee, Morozov renewed these complaints and said it was a "strange coincidence" that the incident had occurred at a time when the Soviet Union was pressing its criticism of the staff policy.

Morozov insisted the arrest had been instigated to hamper Soviet citizens from participating in the international staff, since Melekh was one of the few Russians in a high post. He called Melekh's arrest "bandit-like aggression."

'Monstrous Deeds.'

He said his delegation had learned with surprise that the Secretary General had not taken measures to put an end to the "monstrous deeds and dirty political acts against a member state."

Rosenbaum in his brief reply noted that the overwhelming majority of the staff scrupulously obeyed Article 100 of the charter, which obliges all secretariat members to behave as "international officials responsible only to the organization" and says also that they shall not seek or receive instructions from any government or from any authority outside the organization.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has wide open greeting for crowd waiting in the rain to welcome him on his arrival at Philadelphia yesterday to campaign for the Republican presidential ticket.

HERTER REJECTS RUSSIAN DEMAND FOR U.N. REVISION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter rejected yesterday Russia's view that the United Nations must be revised to accommodate three blocs—free world, Communist and neutralist.

He called for the 99-nation international agency to be strengthened rather than weakened in the face of Soviet attacks against it.

Herter, in a speech for the fifteenth anniversary of the U.N., denied that free nations are grouped together in a bloc.

The Secretary agreed there is a Communist bloc led by Russia. As for the neutralist bloc, Herter said this term is inaccurate. "It would be better," he said "to call these nations politically unaligned."

He expressed confidence in the ability of new African members to play a constructive role in the U.N. Despite difficulties, he said, the emerging African nations will combine this cooperation with a firm determination to protect their independence against threats from all outsiders.

eling with Kennedy, said there never had been anything like it in the state's history—not even in the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Battle for Pennsylvania.

Kennedy is in the midst of a final four-day campaign swing in Pennsylvania. The concentration of effort in Pennsylvania speaks louder than words of the tight battle he and his advisers see in this key state.

Republican leaders reportedly told Nixon when he was in Pennsylvania earlier this week that he could capture its 32 electoral votes if Kennedy's margin in Democratic Philadelphia could be held below 200,000.

Kennedy said at the dinner on the golf links that in his judgment the next President would carry Pennsylvania.

The candidate's basic theme yesterday was that the unemployed and the nation's economically depressed areas can look to the Democrats, but not to the Republicans, for help.

He hammered at Mr. Eisenhower's vetoes of two depressed-areas bills passed by the Democratic-controlled Congress and called a substitute measure offered by the Administration "half-baked."

He contended the Democratic bill, providing nearly five times as much in federal loans and grants, was "infinitely preferable."

He said that although Republicans are going around now "claiming concern for depressed areas," he was more interested in performances than election-year promises. He told his listeners, they should be, too.

Telegram to Missourian.

In a telegram yesterday to Everett Rose of Jefferson City, chairman of the Missouri Farmers for Kennedy-Johnson Committee, Kennedy urged his farm-campaign supporters in Missouri to counter efforts by Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "to divide farmers and consumers so that the middlemen can conquer both."

Kennedy wired Rose: "The Nixon-Benson system of fade-away farm prices will cut basic supports 10 to 25 per cent below average market prices. Four more years of this Nixon-Benson policy would seriously endanger producers of all farm commodities and wreck the business economy of farm trade centers and industries."

"Nixon and Benson are trying deliberately to divide farmers and consumers so that the middleman can conquer both," he said. "Farm prices averaged 100 per cent of parity in 1952, and consumer food prices were reasonable. Processors have taken away what the farmer lost—and the taxpayers are paying five times as much for farm programs."

Eisenhower

ad-libbed. He got off sharp lines not usually associated with his solemn delivery and serious approach.

Shouldn't Wring Hands.

"My friends, anyone who seeks to grasp the reins of world leadership should not spend all his time wringing his hands," the President said and drew prolonged cheers and applause from the audience of about 1200 diners.

"I hear that one candidate says he will act first and act fast," the President declared and drew loud applause when he added: "America needs a man who will think first and then act wisely.

"We need a leader who will not, one day, say that the United States Government should intervene in Cuba and then retract it the next day.

"We need a leader who will not, one day, say he would give up territory to the Communists and then change his mind on it a day or so later."

Appears Resentful.

At times Mr. Eisenhower appeared to be resentful of attacks on the record of his own Administration. Reciting the Administration's achievements he repeated that the United States was the most powerful nation militarily with a balanced force ready to "meet whatever threat may exist in this world."

All new nations that have come into being since the war have chosen a democratic form of government rather than Communism, the President said in an ad-lib passage. He said that 120 heads of state and government have visited Washington in the last eight years.

"Whatever was America's image abroad at the beginning of this political campaign, it tends to be blurred today. This is because of unwarranted disparagement of our own moral, military and economic power."

He then extemporized about "one American who seemed to feel he was entitled to criticize 180,000,000 other Americans."

Eulogy for Nixon.

The longest and loudest applause of the evening came when the President, toward the end of his talk, delivered a eulogy of the Republican presidential candidate and announced that he hoped he would be joined by "a vast majority of Americans" in casting his vote for the Nixon-Lodge team.

"Dick Nixon is superbly experienced, maturely conditioned in the critical affairs of the world. For eight years he has been a full participant in the deliberations that have produced the great decisions affecting our nation's security and have kept us at peace. He has shared more intimately in the great affairs of government than any Vice President in all our history.

"He has traveled the world, studying at first hand the hopes and needs of more than 50 nations. He knows in person the leaders of those nations—knowledge of immeasurable value to a future President. He has represented us with distinction in situations demanding diplomacy, wisdom, tact and courage."

State a Toss-up.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders in Pennsylvania believe that this state is today a toss-up. It is one reason Senator Kennedy arrived in Philadelphia last night, at almost exactly the same time the President was leaving the airport. Kennedy will devote three days to the Philadelphia area.

The President flew from Washington in a heavy overcast and stepped off his plane, the Columbine, in a cold drizzle of rain. Nevertheless as his bubble top car turned into Chestnut street and the beginning of the downtown section he had secret service operatives push back the plastic cover and he stood and waved with both arms raised high to the crowds that had waited to see him pass.

McKay flew the X-15 for nine minutes after dropping away from the wing of a B-52 more than eight miles above this desert test center.

HUTCHESON, TWO AIDS CONVICTED IN BRIBERY CASE

Carpenter Union Officers Charged With Giving $15,800 to Highway Official.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 29 (AP)—Three top officers of the Carpenters Union were convicted last night of bribing an Indiana highway official in quick-profit right-of-way deals, climaxing a highway scandal case that dated back nearly three years.

Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member international union; O. William Blaier, vice president, and Frank M. Chapman, treasurer, displayed no emotion as Criminal Court Judge M. Walter Bell read the verdict.

Bell ordered a pre-sentence investigation and set Nov. 28 for sentencing. The conviction carries a 2-to-14-year prison sentence and a maximum fine of $15,000 each.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated less than three hours before finding all three guilty of bribing and conspiracy to bribe Harry A. Doggett of Greensburg, former right-of-way purchasing director for the Indiana Highway Department.

The three were charged with giving Doggett a $15,800 check for advance information about proposed routes for highways in Wayne and Lake counties. The prosecution contended they bought land along the proposed routes then sold it to the state, making $81,000 profit.

John A. Royse, defense attorney for Blaier and Hutcheson, announced he would ask for a new trial, but John A. O'Hara, attorney for Chapman, said he would request a suspended sentence for his client, who he said is suffering from cancer, heart trouble and diabetes.

Since the three were indicted in February 1958 two other men, including a former highway commission chairman, have entered prison in other phases of the scandals. The illegal transactions occurred in the administration of former Gov. George N. Craig, who went out of office in 1956. Craig was not accused in any of the scandals.

CHINA, NEPAL TO FIX BORDER

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Red China and Nepal have agreed to send joint teams into the Himalayas to survey their disputed border, the Peiping radio said last night.

The radio broadcast a communique that made no mention of the ownership of the summit of Mountain Everest, the world's highest mountain, which is involved in the dispute.

USIA Chief Admitted Loss Of U.S. Prestige in January

Allen Freely Quoted From Agency's Now-Secret Polls—House Investigators Study Testimony.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—George V. Allen, director of the United States Information Agency, in public testimony before Congress last January, freely quoted from the agency's now-secret polls measuring United States prestige overseas.

House investigators of a Democratic-controlled subcommittee are studying Allen's testimony, it was learned yesterday, in which the USIA director at one point agreed with a Republican questioner that the United States had "suffered a tremendous loss of prestige" because of Soviet space feats.

The transcript of the hearings before the House Committee on Science and Astronautics shows this exchange at one point between Representative Edgar Chenoweth (Rep.), Colorado, and Allen:

Chenoweth: "Your statement, Mr. Allen, seems to carry the implication with it that it is generally recognized in these countries that we are far behind the Russians in this space race and that it will take several years to catch up, and therefore, we have suffered a tremendous loss of prestige. Is that the actual situation in these countries as you find it?"

Allen: "That is as honest a statement as I can make, sir."

Earlier, Allen had cited the results of polls of United States prestige taken in Europe and Asia "between June 1958 and March 1959."

A USIA spokesman, questioned about the testimony yesterday, said there was no inconsistency in the agency's present stand, that such polls are "classified," and Allen's testimony before Congress about these polls 10 months ago.

Albert J. Lubin, USIA spokesman, said Allen's refusal this week to turn over polls to two congressional committees that have requested them is "utterly different" and bears "no relationship to his testimony at a hearing." Lubin sought to draw a distinction between citing poll results, as Allen did, and releasing the documents themselves.

The polls have become a controversial issue because Vice President Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, says United States prestige is at an "all-time high" and Senator John F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent, says it is not.

Meanwhile, it developed that Abbott Washburn, deputy director of USIA, said in a speech in Washington Sept. 30 that attracted little attention at the time, that rising Soviet prestige was the No. 1 liability on this nation's cold war balance sheet. A USIA spokesman said the speech was "naturally" based on all information available to Washburn, including public opinion polls.

A House investigator told the New York Herald Tribune Thursday that the latest such poll, dated Oct. 10, shows a continuing decline in United States prestige in Western Europe, particularly among opinion-making intellectual leaders.

G.O.P. CHEERED BY 1 PCT. RISE IN FARM PRICES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (UPI)—Republicans were cheered today by the Government's last farm price report before the election showing farmers received 1 per cent more for their crops and livestock this month while paying lower production and living costs.

The G.O.P. hoped the rise in farm prices would help presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon and other Republican candidates in farm states where a long decline in crop income has caused dissatisfaction among farmers. This unrest has enabled Democrats to make inroads in recent years in traditional Republican strongholds.

The 1 per cent rise in crop and livestock prices in the month that ended Oct. 15 marked the first time that farm prices in any month this year were higher than in the comparable month of 1959. The mid-October price index stood at 2 per cent above mid-October 1959.

CIVILIANS ON U.S. PAYROLL DOWN 20,298 IN SEPTEMBER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) A congressional report today counted 2,364,635 civilians on the federal payroll in September, 20,298 below the August total.

Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, made public the figures without comment.

He said the total number included 1,327,838 workers on the payrolls of civilian agencies, down 12,449 from August, and 1,036,797 civilians working for the military agencies, a drop of 7849.

U.N. TROOPS GET ORDERS TO FIRE AT CONGO REBELS

Correspondent Given Protection After Congolese Try to Enter Hotel Room.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Oct. 29 (AP)—United Nations military units in The Congo have been given orders to fire at rebellious Congolese troops resisting their authority.

U.N. officers said today the order specified that any opposition to U.N. efforts to maintain law and order will be considered an act of aggression.

In the past, U.N. standing orders permitted the use of arms only in self defense.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Goldsmith was taken under U.N. protection today after a squad of armed Congolese soldiers tried to break into his room.

The soldiers entered the Memling Hotel where Goldsmith was staying, shouting that they were carrying out orders of Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

Mobutu announced three days ago he would ask Goldsmith to leave the country. Goldsmith, a British subject, has been reporting acts of violence by Mobutu's soldiers, as have other correspondents.

After U.N. soldiers had rescued Goldsmith from Congolese pounding on his door, Mobutu changed his mind today and allowed him to remain in The Congo.

"I was furious but let's forget the past," Mobutu told Goldsmith in the colonel's villa, to which he was accompanied by United States Consul Frank Carlucci.

New tribal violence threatened in Katanga's disturbed northern region following the murder of a powerful Baluba chief and several of his headmen.

A Katanga spokesman said the bodies of grand chief Boniface Kalowa and his dead aids were found at Kaloko, 380 miles north of Elizabethville. They had been abducted in Kabongo two days ago.

Some said the chief was killed by Baluba rebels. Others reported his own supporters, tired of his attachment to Katanga President Moris Tshombe, did away with him.

HOCKER CHARGES SENATOR LONG IS 'RUBBER STAMP' FOR DEMOCRATS

State Deserves Better, Republican Asserts—His Rival Attacks G.O.P. Farm Policy 'Bensonism.'

Lon Hocker, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, assailed his Democratic opponent, Senator Edward V. Long, as a "rubber stamp" candidate in a campaign statement at Kansas City yesterday.

"The suggestion has been made," Hocker said, "that Missourians should elect my opponent, not because he has any views of his own but because he will echo those of the Democratic candidate for President. I think the people of Missouri deserve better representation than this.

"Missouri deserves to be represented by someone who has some convictions of his own, as Senator Hennings did, and not by someone who will be a rubber stamp, or who hopes to ride to Washington, as my opponent has said, on the coattails of some other candidate."

Hocker and Long are candidates for the two-year remainder of the term of the late Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr.

Hits Administration.

Senator Long was campaigning in western Missouri yesterday, and in a speech at Butler last night, he was critical of agricultural policies of the Eisenhower Administration.

He said the Republicans "offer you four more years of 'Bensonism.' They offer you by 1963, as a maximum, 85-cent corn, $1.23 wheat, 46-cent oats, $15 cattle and $12 hogs."

Such prices, he added, would drive thousands of farmers from their farms—and "if farmers go broke and must leave the farm and go to the cities, many small businesses will go broke with them."

The Democratic candidate for Governor, Attorney General John M. Dalton, in a speech in Brentwood last night proposed a state commission of advisers representing many fields of activity.

Experts From Various Field.

He said it should be "composed of experts at various levels of state and local government and from various private fields." These included taxation, education and industrial development.

"The next Governor," he said, "will play an important role affecting state and local governments for many years to come."

Dalton's Republican opponent, State Representative Edward G. Farmer Jr. of Joplin, spoke at Rolla. He continued to hammer at Dalton's record as Attorney General, saying Dalton opposed a bill in 1955 that would have prevented his private practice of law while holding his office.

Farmer said Dalton "left no stone unturned" in his effort to help defeat a fellow townsman and Democrat, State Senator John W. Noble of Kennett, in his race for renomination. It was Noble who offered an amendment to prevent outside practice by the Attorney General, but a committee killed the amendment, Farmer said.

The Republican candidate again expressed his desire to debate issues with Dalton on television. Dalton has declined, saying he did not want to help provide an audience for his opponent.

GIRL REPORTED MISSING IS FOUND IN MOVIE THEATER

An intensive search was begun for Martha Tennia, 15 years old, by police and dogs of the canine corps after the girl was reported missing from her home last night. It ended when she was found at a motion picture theater.

Mrs. Kenneth Blount, mother of Martha, said she and her husband went out for dinner and discovered the girl missing on returning to their home, 5539A Easton avenue. A pair of the girl's slippers and her scarf were found near a trash can in the yard.

Searchers spread through the neighborhood and an announcement was made on a television newscast. A policeman found Martha in a Wellston theater.

U.S. URGED TO SPEND MORE FOR EDUCATION

Federal expenditures for higher education must be increased steadily if the nation is to meet the needs and demands of the space age, Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, said last night.

Waterman addressed the St. Louis University regional meeting of the American Assembly at Pere Marquette Park Lodge. The four-day meeting is concerned with the federal role in meeting the problems of colleges and universities.

Not only must federal spending be increased, Waterman said, but a corresponding effort must be made to get more funds from all sources so that diversity and balance may be safeguarded in higher education.

Waterman warned that the Soviet Union is now placing much greater emphasis on science and its applications than we are. He said the output of American scientists and engineers was superior except "in a few fields which we have neglected and which the Soviets have stressed."

"The really serious question that confronts us is not where we stand vis-a-vis the Russians at the present time," he said, "but whether we can meet the challenge they have boldly flung at us for the future."

Waterman pointed out that nine of the 15 members of the Soviet Presidium were trained as scientists or engineers, while two thirds of the 63 members of the U.S.S.R. Council of Ministers had such training.

"Even after we take into account the fact that most Russians who had collegiate-level training were educated in science or engineering," he said, "the fact remains that those who guide the destinies of the U.S.S.R. are aware of the potentialities of science and are in a position to exploit them in the interests of the government."

Stressing the mounting costs of scientific training at the university level and the importance of sound programs in secondary schools, Waterman said success in getting the money depended on making the general public understand the vital importance of science to the nation's future.

"Most important," he said, "is the realization that this emergency is not ephemeral but a continuing, possibly a permanent, one. In this modern world there can be no relaxation of our determination to compete successfully and continuously."

Chairman of the assembly, held in co-operation with the American Assembly and Columbia University is the Rev. R. J. Henle, S.J., acting vice president in charge of academic administration at St. Louis University.

Father Henle is being assisted by George D. Wendel, assistant professor of political science at St. Louis University, as conference director, and the Rev. J. Barry McGannon, S.J., administrative assistant to the president of the university, as assistant director.

ST. LOUIS HAS LOWEST RATE OF TRAFFIC DEATHS

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—St. Louis had the lowest traffic fatality rate of any city in its population class in the first nine months of 1960, the National Safety Council reported yesterday.

St. Louis had a death rate of 2.4 for each 10,000 registered vehicles. San Francisco ranked second with a 2.7 rate in the 750,000 to 1,000,000 population class and Cleveland third with 3.2. Chicago led cities with more than 1,000,000 population with a death rate of 2.5.

The council reported that traffic deaths across the country rose 1 per cent in the first nine months of the year while travel volume increased 2 per cent. Traffic deaths totaled 27,440, which is 220 more than the number recorded in the same period in 1959.

EDUCATOR CITES MOTIVATIONS OF PUBLIC IN VOTING

In deciding how to vote in a Presidential election, most voters probably are motivated by their occupation, income and social background more than by rational calculation, William N. Chambers, professor of political science at Washington University, said yesterday.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of university alumni at the Lennox Hotel, he said much depends on the voter's personal reaction to the candidates. This reaction might be exemplified by the question, "Would you like to work with this man?"

It was personal response, the speaker said, that resulted in many Democrats voting for President Eisenhower but for no other Republican, and continuing to call themselves Democrats.

The "self-conscious independent voter," he said, is one who is assailed by cross pressures. As such a type he cited a man who comes from a Democratic family, but is married to a Republican and whose business and social associates are predominantly Republicans.

Daphne Fairbanks Married.

BILL FOR COUNTY, CITY AIRPORT BOARD

City Counselor Thomas J. Neenan and St. Louis County Counselor William E. Gallagher were instructed yesterday to prepare an ordinance establishing a joint city-county airport commission.

The instructions were given by Mayor Raymond R. Tucker and County Supervisor James H. J. McNary in a meeting at the county courthouse. It was the fourth meeting between Tucker and McNary in their efforts to work together to establish an airport and a workhouse.

Neenan and Gallagher reported at the meeting that they could find no legal impediments in the way of joint operation of an airport. Others present at the meeting were Walter Smith, assistant county counselor, and Walter T. Malloy, chairman of the City Airport Commission.

Robert L. Sharp, a test pilot for McDonnell Aircraft Corp., said in a letter to Tucker and McNary that Weiss Airport, Howell island and the Alton Airport were not suitable sites for a second major airport for St. Louis for various reasons.

Weiss Airport and Howell island cannot be developed to sufficient size to permit safe landings by jet transports, he said. Alton Airport, though "one of the nicest small airports in the Midwest," is too far from the center of St. Louis, about 22 air miles, and does not have adequate highways leading to it, he added.

He suggested consideration of Parks Metropolitan Airport in Cahokia or a site southeast of Dupo, Ill. In the meantime, he said, Lambert-St. Louis Field should be expanded.

Bomarc-B Missile Fails.

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Oct. 29 (AP)—A Bomarc-B was destroyed shortly after launching yesterday when the interceptor missile veered in flight. This was the first failure of the Air Force's advanced Bomarc-B model in seven launchings from Eglin. Eight previous test launchings from Cape Canaveral, Fla., were failures.

GUARD RAIL GOES THROUGH AUTO, INJURES DRIVER

Car Swerves Into Barrier on Express Highway at Tower Grove Avenue.

A heavy timber from an Express Highway guard rail was broken off by an automobile and passed through the front of the car, seriously injuring the driver early today.

Police and firemen, aware that the driver, 18-year-old Kenneth Goodman, had received a severe abdominal injury, radioed City Hospital for a doctor. A receiving room physician made a speedy trip to the scene in an ambulance. The physician supervised removal of the unconscious victim and administered first aid.

At the hospital, Goodman was taken to an operating room for immediate surgery and blood transfusions. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Goodman, 3865 Wyoming street. His condition was described as grave.

Two youths and a girl riding with Goodman said he was driving east at 1:10 a.m. The car struck a metal standard, on which flashing reflectors are mounted, below Tower Grove avenue, then swerved into the guard rail. Police reported that a timber 20 feet long pierced the car.

Margaret Whitmore, 15 years old, a passenger, suffered a lacerated elbow. Her brother, Michael, 16, and a second youth were not hurt. The Whitmore home is at 11A South Vandeventer avenue.

Miss Sue Sellers, 2554 Gerard avenue, Maplewood, was killed today when she was thrown out of an automobile that skidded off State Route 21, five miles north of Potosi, Mo.

Police said Miss Sellers, 17 years old, was a passenger in a car driven by Ronald E. Missey, 19, 2134 Esther avenue. The car skidded out of control, police reported, and Miss Sellers was thrown out when the door jarred open. She was pronounced dead at Potosi.

Miss Sellers was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Sellers.

Two drivers were injured when an automobile which was being chased by police crashed into another car at Goodfellow boulevard and Natural Bridge avenue early today.

Ronald Mull, 19-year-old student, 6932 Bancroft avenue, the driver in the chase, was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital with internal injuries. Wendell F. Shasserre, 64, 5956 Era avenue, driver of the second car, also was taken to the hospital with internal injuries.

The chase began at a drive-in theater at 3501 Hamilton avenue when Patrolman Raymond Follis, operator of a one-man car, attempted to halt a convertible occupied by four youths after the manager reported the youths had damaged the washroom. Follis fired a shot in the air as the car sped away. He was joined by Patrolman John Duggan, in a second one-man car, in the pursuit.

Driving at about 70 miles an hour, Mull headed west into Pine Lawn, then circled through a parking lot and went east in Natural Bridge into St. Louis, police said. Duggan fired three shots at the speeding machine. The shots went wild. Mull and his three companions were arrested following the collision with Shasserre's car. Two are juveniles and were released to their parents. The third passenger, 17 years old, was booked suspected of carrying a concealed weapon after the officers found a knife with a 5-inch blade in his pocket.

Mull was booked suspected of leaving the scene of an accident and on nine traffic charges. He and his companions denied causing damage at the theater.

Eisenhower Economic Aid Visits Here, Urges Interest Rate Cut

Saulnier Says Action Would Spur Economy, but Insists It Is 'at Very High Level.'

President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser called here yesterday for lower interest rates as a spur to the economy. He insisted, however, that the economy is now "at a very high level."

Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said at a press conference "The economy is in a good position now to make a further advance beyond the present very high level. There are no excesses in the economy. There is not too much debt, there is no glut in housing, the stock market is not excessively high."

He did not discount the possibility of a decline in business activity. "There is a difference between decisive moves and little changes; nobody can rule out little changes," he asserted.

Saulnier said he was "impatient" because there has not been a more "rapid adjustment of interest rates downward. More realistic interest rates would be helpful and a desirable move for the entire economy."

Personal Campaign Tour.

The former Columbia University economist said he is making a personal campaign tour on behalf of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for President. He insisted that his political feelings did not influence his economic appraisals, which he termed "objective."

In answer to a question, Saulnier said the present slump in home building is a result of uncertainty just before the Nov. 8 election. He said election years are years of deferrals, when business decisions are postponed until the identity of the new President is known.

The decrease in the gross national product (a measure of the total of all economic activity in the country) in the last three months has resulted from a decline in business inventories, Saulnier said. He said he did not anticipate a recession and added, "The talk of a recession is not doing the business outlook any good. It could have a retarding influence."

Increased Spending.

Saulnier took issue with Democratic claims that the public sector of the economy has been starved. Total spending by federal, state and local governments in the last 10 years have been as great as total government spending in the previous 20 years, he said, and predicted that government spending would increase.

The problem of the flight of gold from the United States and a deficit in America's balance of international payments should be solved "in a way consistent with our liberal commercial policies and without recourse to higher tariffs or restrictions of imports," the economist asserted.

The removal of restrictions now imposed by European nations on American imports would help our trade position, he said. Saulnier advocated working out agreements with our European allies to share the cost of NATO defense and the cost of aid to underdeveloped nations.

TODAY IS LAST FOR TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION

The St. Louis and St. Louis County Election Board offices were to stay open until 5 p.m. today to transfer registration of voters who have changed their addresses.

This was the last day for transfer of registration for the Nov. 8 general election. St. Louis residents who have moved are asked to report in person to the Election Board office at 208 South Twelfth street; St. Louis county residents, to the office at 7900 Forsyth boulevard, Clayton.

In the county, transfers by mail will come under the deadline if postmarked not later than midnight tonight. Mailed notices are not acceptable in the city.

Panama Gets U.S. Railroad.

PANAMA CITY, Oct. 29 (AP)—The United States transferred to Panama yesterday, free of cost, its $8,000,000 railroad properties in Panama City. The United States agreed on the transfer in 1955. The properties include switching yards, a railroad station and a freight house.

WOMAN IS FINED $500 FOR FALSE ASSAULT REPORT

Mrs. Wanda Landis Gets Maximum Penalty for Abduction and Rape Story.

Mrs. Wanda Lou Landis, who admitted to police that her story of being raped by five men was a hoax, was fined $500 yesterday by Police Judge Rodney Weiss after she was found guilty of making a false report to police.

The fine was the maximum penalty that could be assessed for the offense.

Detective Robert Jacobs testified that Mrs. Landis told police Sept. 18 and 20 that she had been abducted near Broadway and Lafayette avenue Sept. 17.

She claimed she was raped repeatedly by five Negroes who held her prisoner for more than 24 hours.

A Coast Guardsman testified he saw Mrs. Landis on the Coast Guard ship Poplar, at the foot of Iron street, at about the time the abduction reportedly took place. She was with another Coast Guardsman, the witness said.

There was no defense testimony. Mrs. Landis's attorney said the case would be appealed to the Court of Criminal Correction. Her husband, Pfc. Charles G. Landis, who was stationed in Germany at the time of the incident, was with her in court.

Six days after Mrs. Landis reported the alleged rape to police, she admitted her story was a hoax. She said she spent most of the period drinking with a Coast Guardsman. At the time she reported she had been raped she lived in the 4500 block of McPherson avenue.

A state misdemeanor charge of making a false report to police is pending. Maximum penalty upon conviction is a fine of $1000 and a workhouse sentence of one year. The state charge is to be heard Nov. 17.

The Tax Amendment

What shenanigan is this?

On Sept. 1 a public notice was printed in the newspaper proposing an amendment to the City Charter relating to "Subjects of Taxation." This amazing, formidable list of activities and things subject to taxation (if three fifths of the voters say Yes) contains some 750 items: from umbrellas to vehicles; from baby-sitting to garbage removers; diapers to kitchen equipment.

Yet the seeming all-inclusive list is discriminatory, and shot with a lot of double taxation. Lawyers, doctors and psychiatrists, for example, are conspicuously missing from the list—not to be taxed. Who concocted this list? Could the contrivers of the list of taxable persons and items have had anything to do with such glaring omissions?

Among the professions the list includes architects and dentists but engineers have the discriminatory qualification, "when not covered by state license." Anyone using the title architect must have a state license. Why should he be double-taxed, and the engineer relieved of paying tax? Landscape architects are not mentioned.

Many items would be double-taxed as well as persons (vehicles, trailers, trucks, etc.). The intention of the amendment is to "broaden the tax base"; but why such audacious discrimination? Artists are listed to be taxed. Everyone claims to be an artist so why not condense the list to artists and tax everyone?

This monstrous proposed tax grab was lifted from the so-called new Charter submitted some time ago and discredited by the voters. And this was one of the main reasons the Charter failed.

And the Mayor wonders why people are swarming out of the city to live in the county.

Why should the voters of the city vote Yes to more taxes?

Francis Raymond

Along toward the end of your recent article on these taxes is included "television sets." Does this mean home television sets?

One smaller city, namely Osawatomie, Kan., has an excise tax on all television receiving antennas in town, but fortunately I do not live in Osawatomie.

So if this Charter amendment is not clarified to not include home television sets I, for one, shall vote against it. W. Chunn

Post-Mortem

It will take some time and doing to erase the scars inflicted by the woeful defeat of the University City bond issue program. In groping for some reasonable explanation, I can only surmise that the voters as a whole were in favor of the proposals and did not vote against them as such, but actually voted against "higher taxes."

May I humbly propose to this rejecting majority that it only deludes itself if it is of the belief that it is saving money by consistently voting against puny tax increases which may be necessitated by progressive community improvements studied and submitted by our foremost capable and public-spirited citizens?

A community, like a business or an institution which does not continually take steps to improve itself, is certainly not going to move ahead, nor is it going to stand still. Such a community instead, must lose its place and fall behind. It will become a less desirable community in which to live rather than the coveted one that it may presently be.

Gradual depreciation of real estate will most assuredly follow and at that point it would be interesting to compare the paltry "savings" derived from defeated bond issues with the stunning losses resulting instead from these apathetic and myopic past performances.

Leo F. Bressler
University City

Isn't one reason the University City bond issues were defeated, the fact that the public has reached the limit in sanctioning a continual increase in public spending? For example, St. Louis county expenditures have increased from $4,000,000 to $7,000,000 in the last three years and University City schools cost per pupil has more than doubled in 12 years. And for this we are getting continually poorer service. John Frier

The Nominees on Defense

The answers that Senator Kennedy and Vice President Nixon made to the Reserve Officers' Association query on national defense are the most revealing statements yet made by the two candidates on this vital subject. Mr. Nixon gave so vague and general a reply that it bore no reassurance at all for persons who are interested in an adequate national defense. Mr. Kennedy met the defense issues so squarely that his statement was convincing.

Through an assistant, Vice President Nixon said that he would not hesitate to ask for a tax increase if it were necessary for the nation's defense. A glib way out, indeed. The Administration's view for the past several years has been that the United States has no reason at all to worry over its defenses. Since Mr. Nixon and the rest of the Administration have for so long said all was well in the Pentagon, what hope is there that as President Mr. Nixon would recognize the necessity to bolster the sagging defense establishment? The Gaither, Rockefeller and other reports, which so clearly and positively pointed out defense deficiencies, were ignored.

In contrast, Mr. Kennedy called for the funds necessary to provide an airborne alert capability. He favored speeding up long-range missile production with "round-the-clock, top national priority" for the two new systems which promise so much—the Polaris-firing submarine and the mobile Minuteman. He took recognition of the weakness in relying almost completely on nuclear weapons by emphasizing the need to re-equip the Army for limited warfare. Without more air transport and modern weapons, the Army cannot be expected to have the potential for stamping out even a small brushfire war.

Prevention of war is far better than any method of fighting a war and Mr. Kennedy certainly had this in mind when he said: "We cannot afford to get into a position where Soviet aggression on a limited scale with conventional weapons forces us to choose between retreat and starting a nuclear war." One reason that the country now lacks the kind of defense establishment it should have is that there are too many committees and layers of negative authority in the Pentagon to get things done. Mr. Kennedy's promise of reorganization in this area again is in revealing contrast to Mr. Nixon's bland assurances that all is well.

The strategic facts visible throughout the world argue for just the kind of program that Mr. Kennedy has committed himself to in his statement. The country has the ability to stand the cost and it long has been in need of the reforms suggested. On the face of this exchange, Mr. Kennedy is the man to put our Defense Department in order.

Issue of the Alpine Slope

Almost obscured by cold-war power struggles, a contest has developed in the United Nations between Italy and Austria over a border region. Though friendly with both countries the United States has sided with Italy, and rightly, we think.

The South Tyrol or Alto Adige region lies on the southern slope of the Alpine border, and contains roughly twice as many German-speaking as Italian-speaking residents. All, however, are Italian citizens, and have been since the destruction of the Austro-Hungarian empire in World War I. After World War II, Austria and Italy agreed on terms by which Italy would grant some local autonomy and bilingual rights in education and official business.

Until recently there was no indication of Austrian dissatisfaction, but suddenly that country has charged Italy with failing to grant sufficient autonomy. Austria demands a U.N. debate; Italy proposes adjudication in the World Court. Negotiation or adjudication certainly seem preferable to debate, which could settle nothing. The American delegate, and those from Argentina and several Latin American and Scandinavian countries made that point.

Such minority problems are always delicate. But Austria has not explained why the Alto Adige issue is so compelling that it requires U.N. discussion, yet not so compelling that it need not be referred to direct talks or the World Court. Surely Austria and Italy could determine the matter amicably between themselves without recourse to the U.N.

Splitting the Grades

The Board of Education has announced plans for the establishment of three or more schools, solely for the seventh and eighth grades. This is based on suggestions made by Dr. James B. Conant. The new schools will be grade schools in separate buildings, according to Superintendent Hickey, rather than a form of junior high school. If they are justified, it will be because they raise educational standards.

There is nothing sacrosanct about the 8-4-4 pattern of American education—eight years of grammar school, four years of high school and four years of college. A goodly number of colleges now admit qualified students who have not completed high school. The junior high school and junior college have been so widely accepted that there is a trend toward an 8-2-2-2-2 pattern. And the St. Louis plan would make this 6-2, etc.

The reason for separating the seventh and eighth grades from the lower ones is the one generally used to justify the junior high school and junior college. These years in the educational progress are held to be transitional, a bridge leading to the next level. Instead of having one "room" teacher, pupils will be introduced to "departmental" teachers who—as in high school—will teach a single subject. Thus pupils would be "pre-adjusted" to high school methods.

Some educators see little value in making this transition sooner rather than later. They are inclined to believe—at least of the junior high school and the junior college—that the advantage is administrative rather than educational. Mr. Hickey says it would make it easier for seventh and eighth graders to take courses in home economics and industrial arts. Some teachers probably regard such instruction as a waste of time. They question the segregation of age groups, arguing that the younger and less advanced are stimulated by the older and more advanced.

The real test is whether the new system will provide better library and laboratory facilities and, especially, better teachers; whether it will provide better scholastic preparation—without sending well-prepared pupils to high schools ill prepared to keep their work at a high level.

As Dr. Conant said, the quality of schooling is much more important than the position of the seventh and eighth grades—or the ninth and the tenth—in a school system. St. Louis tried the junior high school and abandoned it. The willingness to try the new grade arrangement is a good sign. It certainly seems to increase incentives and to broaden opportunities, so the experiment is worth the trial.

Politics and Cuba

Discussion of the Cuban issue in the United Nations illustrates how dangerous foreign policy can be as a domestic partisan campaign issue. The United States managed to put off debate in the U.N. on Cuba's charges of threatened invasion, but not before the Cuban Foreign Minister used campaign speeches to the embarrassment of our foreign policy.

Senator Kennedy had a right to bring Cuba into the campaign as a weak point in the Administration record. But after his worthwhile discussions as to how to avoid mistakes in future Latin American policy, the Democratic candidate began talking of aid for anti-Castro Cubans in exile or "in the mountains." That suggests intervention. Non-intervention was the firm policy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Senator Kennedy has often avowed his devotion to it.

Vice President Nixon had a right to defend the Administration policy; at least he might have argued effectively that non-intervention in Cuba had retained other Latin American friends for the United States. But he too felt obliged to offer a stronger case, so he recommended treating the Castro Government as the ousted left-wing government of Guatemala was treated six years ago. That also means intervention. The Administration to which Mr. Nixon belongs has so far opposed such action in the case of Cuba.

Both candidates must share responsibility for placing the State Department in a predicament where Cuba could quote words from the next President, whoever he may be, against the best interests of American policy. Both candidates turned what might have been a constructive discussion into a contest of "toughness" toward Cuba. Both made statements seeming to commit them to policies more rash than they might think advisable if in the White House. Foreign policy is a legitimate campaign issue, but above all others it requires that the candidates talk sense to the American people.

Behind a Sad Little Army

Albert Deutsch, perhaps the best-known writer on social work in America, made a noteworthy statement when he told the Missouri Association for Social Welfare that aid to dependent children cannot be disassociated from the problem of racial justice. When, as he said, 80 to 95 per cent of aid to dependent children goes to Negro families, it becomes evident that the need—in its present vast proportions at any rate—is a symptom of the problem of "modified apartheid."

We need words like these to prevent the symptom from becoming an institution and being treated with palliatives alone. The objective of law-makers as well as of social workers should be, not more aid, but fewer children who are dependent on the state. As more Negroes become better educated and get better jobs with better pay, the sad symptom of an army of dependent children will diminish. That is one of the brightest hopes our country can hold for its future.

Protection Against Favoritism

Do St. Louis county home owners want to protect themselves against political favoritism in property assessment? They should. When one man's assessment is lowered because of politics or friendship or just plain inefficiency, everybody else's tax burden becomes proportionately that much heavier.

Protection against political assessments is one of the impressive gains county taxpayers can obtain by approving the two Charter amendments on the Nov. 8 ballot. One amendment would combine the tax functions of the County Assessor and Collector in a new Department of Revenue and require selection of those officials under a merit system; the other would extend the merit principle to all their employes.

In fairness to Democratic Assessor Francis Kennedy, there have been no suggestions that county assessments presently are influenced by partisan considerations. But there is no guarantee under the present political system within which he works that the township politicians will be kept at arm's length. And by its very nature the sensitive assessment function needs all the insulation it can get from politics and every possible stimulant to merit, efficiency and nonpartisanship in its administration.

Not only would the Charter proposals meet these needs; they also would tend to prevent a repetition of the tax-collecting fiasco that occurred last year under the blindly-political direction of Collector Ralph Devereaux. County taxpayers have every right to demand insurance against political assessments and slipshod governmental service. They can make these demands effective by voting for both amendments Nov. 8.

Status of the Zeus

It is easy to understand the Army's concern over failure of its request to begin production of its Zeus, the only project under development for active defense against enemy long-range ballistic missiles.

The Zeus is too badly needed and has been too successful in its tests thus far to be neglected. It has shown progress rivaling the surprising record of the Polaris. Yet a decision said to have been made at the White House may delay production of the Zeus until after full system tests in 1962. This means it cannot be deployed until 1965 at earliest.

Just as the Navy staked all on the Polaris being a success, so the Army has been confident that the Zeus will be a success. It is to be hoped that Rep. Anfuso's request to the Defense Department for an immediate report on the status of the Zeus and the reasons for delay will produce some results. It was not just an idle gesture when Congress voted $137,000,000 last year to begin production of Zeus.

The possession of a weapon that would have the potential to destroy even a few ICBMs high in the atmosphere should add considerably to our deterrent strength.

Payola as a State Issue

Backing Mr. Dalton's Anti-Favors Law, Editorial Adds That One-House Legislature Would Help

An Editorial in
The Pleasant Hill Times

John M. Dalton, Democratic candidate for Governor, has brought out one of the most important state issues of our time in his attack upon "conflicts of interest" in the state government.

At Columbia, the Attorney General said: "There is mounting public concern over the standards of conduct in public life. 'Payola' has become a commonplace word and the time has come when Missouri must have laws affecting conflict of interest and ethics in our government."

The Mirror of Public Opinion

"No man," said Dalton, "can serve the public interest and his private clients at the same time. If you elect a man to represent you and the public interest and he then accepts gifts, fees or favors, there arises a conflict of interest between his duty to the public and his duty to private clients."

Mr. Dalton cautioned against "honest graft."

"Some public officials contend this is all right, if they are efficient and industrious administrators, faithfully serving the people, but I do not agree with them. I say there is no such thing as 'honest graft.' It is wrong to accept the smug, modern belief that 'a little lubrication' is necessary to keep the wheels of government spinning. It is the important duty of government to keep the state administration beyond the reach of those seeking to use it for their own profit."

—Post-Dispatch, March 8, 1957.

Legislative Machinery in Missouri

The Dalton program, to be placed before the General Assembly, encompasses these points:

1. He will recommend a law on lobbying, similar to the national act, whereby all lobbyists would register with the Secretary of State, stating whom they represent, how much salary they receive and accounting for their entertainment expenditures.

2. He would make it illegal for a member of the Legislature, whether lawyer or layman, to accept a fee to introduce, handle, help pass or defeat any legislation or to represent any client who has a case before any state agency.

3. No state employe receiving $5000 annually or more from the state could accept any private practice, if a lawyer, or additional employment except with the approval of his superiors.

4. No state official or employe could use his office to obtain special privileges, gifts of any kind or value, favors, influence or exemptions denied the average citizen.

These are important recommendations. Enacted into law they would, no doubt, be useful.

But even more important, we think, is Mr. Dalton's bringing into the limelight the ugly fact that "payola" is a real evil in Missouri. That it may presently be legal, for example, for a lawyer to be a member of the Legislature and at the same time be on retainer for a corporation interested in promoting or fighting bills before the General Assembly, does not make it right. Such things have long been a conversational scandal among the knowing, and the Democratic candidate for Governor has served a great and useful purpose by bringing it into the open.

Nothing will bring payola to an end more quickly than aroused public opinion.

We know Attorney General Dalton will not agree with us, but we think one of the finest steps Missouri could take to combat "conflict of interest" in the General Assembly, where it is the greatest problem, would be to put Missouri legislators into the goldfish bowl of a small, one-house Legislature. It is the nooks, crannies, crevices and confusion built into our unwieldy bicameral Legislature that provides the perfect setting for the slot-machine performances we too frequently get.

Dr. Pauling's Mail From The Des Moines Register

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee again questioned Dr. Linus Pauling, the California scientist and Nobel Prize winner who has defied the committee since last June. The expected showdown did not develop. Pauling again refused to produce the documents the committee wanted, but the committee did not, as it had threatened to do, propose that he be cited for contempt. Instead Pauling was excused without being ordered to produce the documents.

He could be called back, but observers in Washington believe this may be the end of the inquiry. They think the committee does not want to prosecute a famed scientist and that it doesn't want a court showdown on this. The Senate committee is investigating possible Communist influence in the campaign to end nuclear testing. Pauling was questioned because he led an international campaign a few years ago to get scientists to sign petitions urging an agreement to end nuclear testing. Pauling agreed to produce all the information except the letters he received from petition signers. He said these individuals might be damaged if he turned their letters over to the Senate committee.

If the case had gone to a showdown, Pauling would have contended that forcing him to turn over the letters in question to Congress would be unconstitutional—infringing on rights of petition, freedom of association and freedom of the press which are guaranteed in the First Amendment to the Constitution.

The information the committee sought is not essential to this Government's effort to combat Communism, and it certainly isn't subversive to urge international agreements for ending nuclear testing. It also is true that the rights of the individual to dissent and petition are infringed upon to some degree if he is unable to correspond with acquaintances on behalf of a lawful cause without fear that this correspondence will be disclosed to the Government.

Between Book Ends

SARTRE: THE EXISTENTIALIST ETHIC, by Norman N. Greene. (University of Michigan Press, 213 pgs., $3.95.)

Dr. Greene is a political scientist, not a philosopher, but he deftly unriddles the vast and varied collection of ethical writings which is Jean-Paul Sartre.

In his plays, his treatises, and even in minor essays and miscellanies, Sartre never digresses from moral matters, from questions of man's prerogatives in his world. A particular prerogative Sartre has singled out for attack is that of ideology, and Greene turns much of the book over to Sartre's "bad faith" charges against doctrinaire religion, Marxism and liberalism. All three accusations are in point today, but to a liberal audience one must specially recommend close study of Sartre's contention that liberalism is itself an orthodoxy and an escape. David L. Norton

JORDI, by Theodore Isaac Rubin, M.D. (Macmillan, 73 pgs., $2.95.)

Jordi is a schizophrenic child who is started on the road to recovery by a teacher in a special school for mentally disturbed children. His crack-up at the age of 8, his view of a threatening world, his progress and setbacks in four years at the school are described from the psychotic child's viewpoint.

The author, a psychiatrist with poetic leanings, tells the story with compassion and insight. Some women's-magazine language (do even disturbed children say "truly angry" for "awful mad" these days?) is balanced by the author's noble intent. This is to create sympathy and understanding for mentally disturbed children.

Any parent or teacher could profit from taking the hour or two necessary to read it. Ethel Strainchamps

I'LL TELL YOU A TALE, by Frank Dobie. (Little, Brown, 362 pgs., $6.50.)

Frank Dobie is one of the more prolific and ardent authors of Southwestern tales. This book is an anthology of some of his best stories, put together by Isabel Gaddis, one of his former students at the University of Texas, and stamped by Dobie himself as those he likes best. The stories are arranged topically into sections, and they are short enough to make easy, pleasant reading when only a few moments can be spared for a book. This is a fine volume for the bed table of a Western buff. Robert E. Hannon

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

LIBRARY CONVENTION HEARS PAUL HORGAN

An anecdote related to him by an associate in the Army was the genesis of "The Distant Trumpet," the book's author, Paul Horgan, told a dinner meeting of the Missouri-Illinois Library Association convention at the Chase Hotel last night.

Horgan cited the anecdote as an example of how novels get written. The novelist, who lives in Roswell and Santa Fe, N.M., described his literary methods and related another anecdote told him by the sister of the late novelist, Willa Cather.

Though not used in a novel, the anecdote was one of the stories that will always be remembered, he told the librarians and their guests. He was a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1955 for his novel "The Great River."

"The Pioneer Lawyer on the Missouri Frontier" was the subject of an address last night by W. Francis English, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Missouri, at the second general session.

Exhibits by 85 publishing house and library-related concerns were a feature of the convention. It was to end at noon today.

REFORMATION DAY WILL BE OBSERVED

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

More than 130 churches affiliated with Metropolitan Church Federation will celebrate Reformation Sunday tomorrow. Services in the individual churches will emphasize a common theme—the principles of Protestantism.

Reformation Sunday commemorates the 443d anniversary of the beginning of the Protestant movement by Martin Luther in Germany—Oct. 31, 1517.

Ninety Lutheran churches which belong to the Council of Lutheran Churches will sponsor a public Reformation service of music and drama at Kiel Auditorium Opera House tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The church federation is not holding this year its Reformation rally, which was held for many years at Kiel Auditorium. Lutheran churches gave up their Reformation Day rally several years ago. It was held at Kiel Auditorium on the afternoon of Reformation Sunday.

The church federation's Reformation Commission has issued a statement on "The Common Core of Our (Protestant) Faith," and copies will be distributed among many congregations tomorrow.

The Lutheran service at 7:30 p.m. is designed to supplement observance of Reformation Day by individual congregations. "We're stressing Bible truth, not political issues," it was explained by the Rev. Gerhardt Nitz, chairman of the committee planning the Opera House festival.

The Concordia Cantata Chorus and a mass chorus of 1000 Lutheran high school students will sing. A religious play, "Christ in the Concrete City," will be performed by a touring cast of players.

More than 20 East Side Lutheran churches will take part in a Reformation service at the Belleville Township High School, 2600 West Main street, tomorrow at 7 p.m. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Milton J. Nauss, pastor of Pilgrim Lutheran Church, St. Louis.

The Tri-Cities Ministerial Association will hold a community Reformation service at the Granite City High School tomorrow at 2:45 p.m. The sermon will be given by the Rev. Dr. George W. Sweazey, pastor of Webster Groves Presbyterian Church.

Sermon Output Estimated.

About 55,000,000 people listen to more than one billion words in sermons each Sunday in this country, according to Presbyterian Life magazine.

Former St. Louisan Supervises Mission Farm in High Andes

—Photographs by Department of Missionary Education, Evangelical and Reformed Church.

THE REV. EUGENE BRAUN, agriculture missionary of United Church of Christ, discusses a farm problem with Indian farmer on high plateau in Ecuador.

A 350-acre demonstration farm at an altitude of 9280 feet is under the supervision of the Rev. Eugene Braun at Picalqui, Ecuador. He is a former St. Louisan and an agricultural missionary of the United Church of Christ.

The farm lies on a saucer-like plain between two mountain ranges. It is operated by the United Andean Mission to demonstrate improved crop rotation, land use and soil reclamation for the benefit of the Indian farmers.

A group of St. Louisans, members of Evangelical and Reformed churches, visited the farm mission station last summer.

The Rev. Mr. Braun is the son of the Rev. Dr. John J. Braun, who was executive secretary of the Board of National Missions of the old Evangelical Synod from 1931 to 1934, when this denomination merged with the Reformed Church to form the Evangelical and Reformed Church. The Rev. Dr. Braun held the same missions post with the new church until 1945, when he retired. He now lives in Portland, Ore.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church has united with Congregational Christian Churches to form the new United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Eugene Braun as a boy lived in Webster Groves, where the family was active in the Webster Groves Evangelical and Reformed Church.

CHURCH WOMEN HELP OVERSEAS FAMILIES

United Church Women will observe World Community day Friday. The speaker will be the Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation. His subject for two addresses will be "Peace, Policy, and People," and he will discuss his recent trip to Europe and Africa.

The annual meeting of U.C.W. will be held at Delmar Baptist Church, Washington and Skinker boulevards, Friday at 10:30 a.m. New officers will be installed, and Mrs. Herman C. Bleckschmidt, president, will preside.

The World Community day program will be held at 1 p.m., when the Rev. Dr. Wagner will speak.

The Evening Division of U. C.W. will hold its annual meeting at Grace Methodist Church, Waterman and Skinker boulevards, at 6:30 p.m., and the Rev. Dr. Wagner will be the speaker, at an 8 p.m. program.

One purpose of World Community day is the collection of useful gifts for needy mothers and children in overseas areas. United Church Women are asked to bring to their Friday meetings nightgowns for children 2 to 10 years of age, and home medical kits. Donors are asked also to contribute 8 cents per pound for the cost of handling their gifts.

How to Address a Minister --- By One Who Has Retired

How to address a minister is the subject of a contribution by the Rev. Dr. Theodore Shaw Smylie, pastor emeritus of Oak Hill Presbyterian Church, where he served for 22 years. He now is retired, and living in St. Louis.

(The question of what is a proper title for a minister has often been asked of the Church Page Editor, and the Rev. Dr. Smylie was asked for his answer). His letter follows.

"Although preachers have been here for some time, and are here to stay, a great many people are not quite sure of the proper etiquette in addressing ministers.

"How many times we hear a minister addressed as 'Reverend!' Now and then we hear someone call him 'Rev.'

"The word Reverend is an adjective. It means (Webster) 'that which is worthy of reverence.' One would hardly greet his Senator, 'Good Morning, Honorable,' so it would not be proper to say, 'Good morning, Reverend,' or 'Hello, Reverend.'

"As one would not introduce Mrs. Jones as 'Beautiful Jones.' or Mr. Brown as 'Honorable Brown,' so it is not proper to speak of or introduce a pastor as 'Rev. Smith.' It is proper to say, 'The Rev. Mr. Smith,' or 'The Rev. Dr. Smith,' but not simply 'Rev. Smith.'

"The minister does not cease to be a man because he is a minister, therefore it is never improper to address him as 'Mr. Smith.'

"Many ministers have earned the degree, Doctor of Theology (Th.D.), or Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.). Many other pastors have had conferred on them the degree of Doctor of Divinity (D.D.). It is proper to speak of these titleholders as Dr. Smith, or the Rev. Dr. Smith.

"The word pastor is a noun, and describes the office of the minister. In some churches it has become customary to speak of the minister as 'pastor,'—'Pastor Smith.'

"The word parson comes from the word person. It is a heritage of the days when the minister was probably the best educated man in town and was regarded as 'The Person.' "

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS MEETS IN PUERTO RICO

Puerto Rico was host this week to national leaders of Congregational Christian churches as the executive committee and staff of the denomination's Board of Home Missions met at San Juan.

Mrs. Fred A. Eppenberger, 7141 Washington avenue, University City, vice president of the Board of Home Missions, attended the meeting.

The Congregational Conference of Puerto Rico has 53 churches, with 4576 members. A third of the churches are self-supporting, and all but one have Puerto Rican ministers.

A high point of the board members' visit to Puerto Rico was a visit to Ryder Memorial Hospital at Humacao, founded by Congregationalists in 1914.

LAFAYETTE PARK CHURCH PLANS UNION SERVICE

Lafayette Park Methodist Church, 3200 Lafayette avenue, will hold a Reformation Day service tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Other Methodist churches in south St. Louis have been invited to take part in the service, it is announced by the Rev. Sidney E. Stringham, pastor of Lafayette Park Church.

The Message of The Reformation For 1960

October 31 is generally observed as the birthday of the Protestant Reformation. It was on that day, in 1517, that Martin Luther nailed his 95 propositions on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg.

What was Martin Luther's great discovery? It was the chief teaching of the Bible: "Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the law." Romans 3:28.

For hundreds of years the established church had taught that man was saved by faith plus deeds. Luther discovered that the Bible taught salvation is by faith alone.

"By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast." Ephesians 2:8.

It was the Reformation of Martin Luther that brought this vital teaching to the attention of the world once again. Through doing so he, in a sense, gave Christ back to the world.

God can bless you through Christ only when the Gospel is preached in the churches and—believed by you.

Assumption Upsets East St. Louis; Jeff City Downs C.B.C.

Flyers Fall First Time In Rivalry

The king is dead. Long live the king.

East St. Louis's football mastery over all opponents for 13 straight games, including six this season, and since 1931 over its intra-city Catholic high school rival came to sudden end, 15-7, at Parsons Field last night.

What was supposed to be a romp by East St. Louis's Flyers to the city title turned the other way in the fourth quarter. In a few dramatic minutes, the Pioneers of Assumption grabbed a 13-7 lead, added a safety and were advancing down the field as the final buzzer sounded.

The game's ending set off a wild 15-minute demonstration by Assumption players, coaches, fans and cheer leaders.

The rivalry started in 1931 and during the 29-year span the two schools had met 25 times. East St. Louis had won 23 and the only small measure of comfort for Assumption was two ties in 1950 and 1957.

Long Time Coming.

For more than a quarter of a century, Assumption (the school changed its name from Central Catholic 10 years ago) had been waiting for this moment and the 1960 Pioneers gained the victory over a team that had lost but once in its last 26 games.

Coach Fred Cameron of East St. Louis, ranked this past week as the area's No. 1 prep team, praised the conquerors.

"They ripped our line apart," he said. "That was the big difference. It wasn't the pass (an 84-yard pass play from Rich Stefanik to Paul Weiss that broke a 7-7 tie) and it wasn't the penalty (East St. Louis had a touchdown play nullified by an offensive interference penalty in the last three minutes) but what beat us was the way they outplayed us on the line."

East St. Louis's last defeat was a 14-13 thriller to Parkview High of Springfield, Mo. in the Flyers' third game in 1959. They had marched over seven straight foes to close out 1959 and won six straight this year. Assumption was 3-3 and had lost three straight before last night's momentous upset.

Seven Plays to TD.

Three minutes after the game started, Assumption's chances of victory appeared slim as East St. Louis marched 71 yards to score in seven plays.

The touchdown came on a pass from Jim Basarich to Ron Young, who juggled the ball twice on the 10-yard line before scampering over the goal line. Bill Moder came in to kick the extra point and he did.

East St. Louis then kicked off to Assumption and the Pioneers fumbled on their first offensive move and Bob Seper recovered on the Pioneers' 24-yard stripe. East St. Louis managed to get to the 13-yard line before being stopped and that ended the Flyer offensive.

Assumption started its first touchdown march from its own 31-yard stripe late in the first quarter and kept driving in the second period until Paul Bauer bulled over from the six-inch marker with five minutes to play in the half. Glen Bischof kicked the game-tying extra point.

Goal-Line Stand.

East St. Louis made a great goal-line stand in the waning moments of the third quarter. Assumption marched 65 yards to the three-yard marker but could not push the ball across in four tries.

The Flyers seemed inspired after this stand and moved to the Assumption nine-yard marker only to lose the ball on downs with six minutes of play remaining.

Assumption finally took over on its 14 and tried two ground plays but picked up only three yards. Coach George Martz sent in Stefanik for a third-down pass try and the play worked. Weiss gathered in Stefanik's aerial on the 45-yard stripe and dashed the rest of the way as a brilliant down-field block by Paul Keeney cleared his path. This time the extra point try was blocked but Assumption led 13-7.

A punt by Assumption placed the ball on the East St. Louis eight-yard line with two minutes and 35 seconds to play. Two passes failed but on a third try Rufus Jones hit Cornelius Perry on the 35-yard line and Perry sped 65 yards to the goal line. The play, however, was nullified for offensive interference.

Instead of a 13-13 tie East St. Louis now was in serious trouble and a few moments later a charging Pioneer line led by Pat Waggaman, slammed Basarich to the ground in the end zone and it was 15-7.

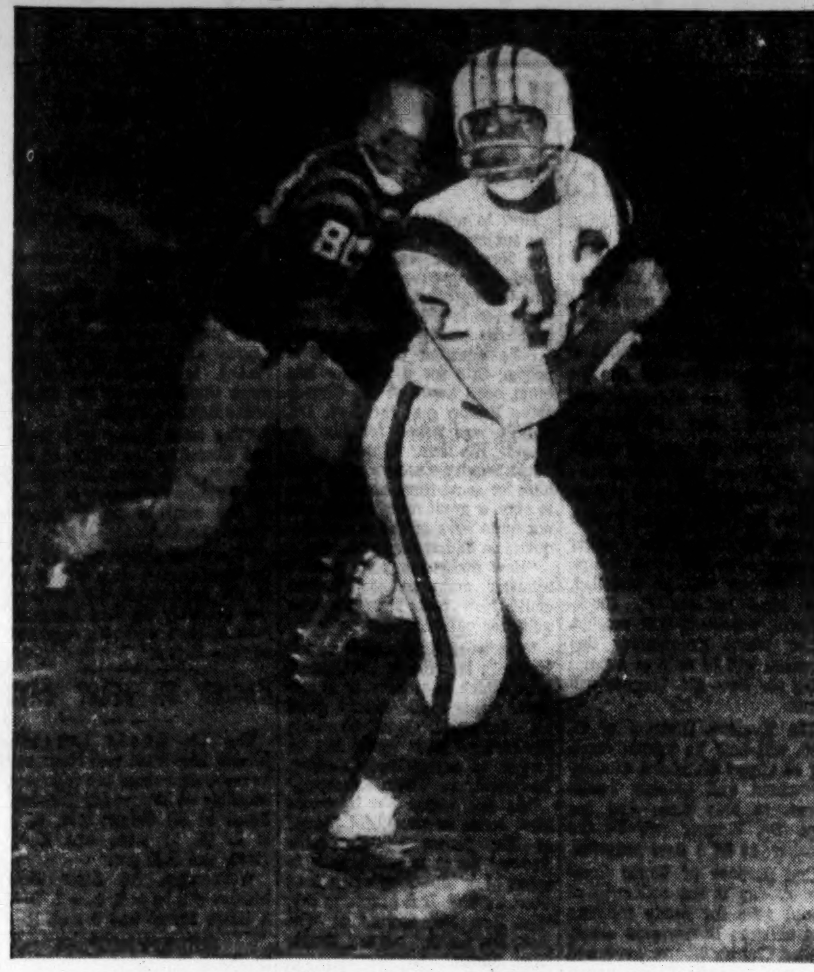

Although he didn't score, one of the game's stars was Charles Stufflebean, who kept picking up important yardage on smashes through the center of the Flyer line.

The king is dead. Long live the king.

Fight Results

LOS ANGELES — Joe Brown, 134½, Houston, outpointed Cisco Andrade, 133½, Compton, Calif., 15. (Brown retained world lightweight championship).

AGANA, Guam — Jessie Stein, 146, Guam, knocked out Steve Tony, 145, Philippines, 5.

Jay Flies at Jefferson City

Speedy halfback CHARLIE BROWN runs for a gain to help the Jefferson City Jays defeat Christian Brothers of St. Louis, 14-0, last night on the winner's field. That's defensive end LOU COCO in pursuit. Brown ran 79 yards for one of the Jays' two touchdowns.

Jays Win 19th in Row, 14-0

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 29—Jefferson City High School spoiled Christian Brothers' record as a streak-stopper here last night as the Jays scored twice on long runs to beat the Cadets, 14-0.

And the Jays of Pete Adkins took on the role of a stopper themselves. It was the first loss for the Cadets (now 6-2) since an opening-game 7-0 defeat to McKinley. Jefferson City has won 19 straight incuding eight this season.

C.B.C., which has halted the long winning strings of Ladue and Jefferson City Helias earlier this year, was no match for the Jays, who piled up 255 yards rushing to C.B.C.'s 94. The Cadets seriously threatened to score just once.

Cadets Threaten Once.

Early in the second quarter, Jack Kersting's Cadets rolled to the Jays' eight-yard line and had a first-and-goal situation. But a 15-yard clipping penalty threw them back and ended the rally.

With 1:15 left in the half, Jeff City quarterback Dick Dorr hit over the right side and raced down the sidelines 57 yards to score. Jack Garvin added the extra point on a kick, and the score was 7-0 at the half.

In the third period, Charlie Brown, on a reverse, slid over his right tackle and dashed 79 yards into the end zone. Again Garvin added the point. Brown had a 48-yard TD run on the same kind of play nullified by a penalty in the second quarter.

Backs Hemmed In.

Jefferson City made one other threat. After halting a C.B.C. rally with a pass interception on the Jeff City 20 in the fourth period, the Capital City eleven marched downfield with an aerial assault that ended on the Cadet 12 as time ran out.

A crowd of 6500 saw what Adkins called his team's peak effort for the season. The fine corner play of Jefferson City defenders kept C.B.C.'s speedy backs hemmed in throughout the game.

C.B.C. was ranked third in last week's Post-Dispatch area Top Ten, and Jefferson City was rated top team in central Missouri.

Revived Royals Face Hawks Here Tonight

By John J. Archibald

Having had nearly a week to mull over their defeat at the hands of their pre-season patsies, the Hawks will again try to cut down the revived Cincinnati Royals tonight. The game will be played at The Arena, starting at 8:30.

By winning six of their first seven games, the Royals have captured almost one third as many victories as they did during the entire 1959-60 season. When their record was 19 and 56. The Hawks, getting off to a more lesurely start in their National Basketball Association schedule, have played only three games and won two of them.

Oscar Robertson, the "Big O" from Cincinnati U. and All-America fame, is the Royals' greatest attraction. Though he is listed as a guard, the 6-foot-5 Robertson has been switching into the front court sporadically in order to shoot from his best range, the 10- to 15-foot area.

Robertson is particularly apt to move to a forward's spot when the opposing team puts in a front liner of his approximate height.

There will be music by the Jazz Central group prior to the game and by the Missouri School for the Blind band between halves. Alexian Brothers Hospital will share in tonight's receipts through sponsorship by the Lions Club.

Mizzou Plays at Nebraska

Today is the last football Saturday when times are affected by daylight saving, so it will be another week before University of Missouri, for instance, is on the same time as St. Louis.

The Tigers play at Nebraska today, with a 2:45 radio broadcast over KMOX, but their game with Colorado next Saturday will be at 1:30, St. Louis time.

Washington University, which meets William Jewell in a homecoming engagement at 2 o'clock, advances its start by a half an hour to 1:30, starting next Saturday against Drake.

Illinois plays at Purdue and Notre Dame opposes Navy at Philadelphia in other outstanding attractions. Station WEW will carry the Notre Dame-Navy game, starting at 12:20. The Illinois - Purdue contest starts at 1:30.

The Ohio State-Michigan State game will be televised by Channel 2, starting at 1:15.

Junior Bills Win, 27-0, At Ritenour

St. Louis U. High rebounded with vengeance from its loss to Ladue last week to whip Ritenour, 27-0, last night on the loser's field.

It was the first loss in seven games for the Suburban Big Seven League power, now 5-1-1, and the fifth victory in seven starts for the Junior Billikens, who dominated the entire game.

Piling up 217 yards rushing in the first half, the Junior Bills scored twice in the second quarter for a 13-0 halftime lead. Pat O'Brien pounded over from the two for one score, and Tom Albus hit Jim Powers on a six-yard touchdown pass for the other.

In the fourth quarter, St. Louis again scored twice. Albus passed to Powers for a 27-yard touchdown and Charles Jirauch ran 46 yards for the final TD.

Ritenour, rated fourth in the Post-Dispatch Top Ten poll, managed only 11 yards rushing and 36 passing. The Jr. Bills, ranked ninth, had 383 yards on the ground and 52 passing.

Giants Favored Over Cardinals By 10½ Points

The New York Giants, leading again in the National Football League's eastern division in which they were champions last season, are 10½-point favorites to beat the St. Louis Cardinals in a return match tomorrow at Yankee Stadium, New York.

A 35-14 victory for the Giants in the first meeting at St. Louis gave an idea of the difficulty of the task that faces the Cards tomorrow.

New York has a three-won, none-lost, one-tied record to hold the division lead. The Cards have beaten only Dallas and Los Angeles in five games and bring up the rear in the Eastern Conference.

Billikens Lose In Cross-Country

NORMAL, Ill., Oct. 29 — St. Louis University lost to Normal, 25-31, and to Bradley, 22-35, in a double-dual cross country meet yesterday. J. Nittlestaedt of Normal covered the three and one-half mile course fastest, in 18:41.9. Dick Ashley of St. Louis was second.

Gross Product

DETROIT, Oct. 29 (AP)—Jerry Gross launched a one-man air assault that struck down the Quantico Marines and brought Detroit a 28-7 football victory last night.

The slender sophomore quarterback, pressed into emergency service two weeks ago when regular Bob Lusky was hurt, performed like a season veteran as he accounted for 294 yards and two touchdowns through the air.

Virdure, Vashon Stand for Victory In State Run

Louis Virdure, repeating as individual champion, led Vashon High School to the state prep cross-country title yesterday at Forest Park.

Virdure, winning by about 50 yards over Jim Tiefenbrun of Normandy, was timed in 9:51.5, better than his 9:54.6 that won a year ago.

Cleon Morton of Vashon, runner-up to Virdure in 1959, was fifth this time, but the Wolverines easily beat defending team champion Beaumont for the crown.

Virdure Wins Again

LOUIS VIRDURE of Vashon High School breaks the string at the finish line of the state prep cross country meet at Forest Park. The victory was his second straight, and his time of 9:51.5 bettered his 9:54.6 that won last year.

Giants Bow in Tokyo

TOKYO, Oct. 29 (AP) — An eight-run uprising in the fourth inning sparked the Japan baseball All-Stars to a 10-7 victory over the San Francisco Giants today.

The outburst against pitchers Jack Sanford and Billy Loes wiped out a 4-1 lead and delighted a capacity crowd of 40,000.

It was the Giants' third defeat against three victories.

Roxana, Dupo Tie For Title

By Bob Ruhl

The Comanche rooters whooped and hollered for victory, but the Cahokia High football team couldn't muster a charge and the school lost its opportunity to win its first Midwestern Conference title since 1951, when it played its initial varsity schedule.

Defending champion Roxana, playing what Coach Earl McLane called its best game, pushed over a touchdown in the fourth quarter to win, 6-0.

The victory gave the Shells a tie with Dupo for the championship in the final league contests for all teams. Dupo had to hustle to nail down its share of the crown, edging winless Bethalto, 7-6. Each of the cotitlists has a 4-1 league mark.

Cahokia had its only chance to score in the first period. Shortly after the kickoff, Jim Grider fell on a Roxana fumble on the Shells' 23. Two running plays moved the ball to Roxana's 13 where Roxana's Ed Parsons recovered a fumble.

Roxana booted away one good scoring chance in the second period when Larry Thomas let the ball get away on the Cahokia 3, and it rolled into the end zone for a touchback. The drive had started from the Shells' 12-yard line.

The touchdown came on a 51-yard march, which included a 21-yard dash by Thomas that put the ball on the Comanche 7. Parsons later rammed over from the 2 with 8:25 left to play.

"This was the first game in which we really got together," McLane said afterward. "We really blocked well. The boys didn't get excited and really put out."

Roxana, which runs from a side-saddle T-formation, had another drive blunted on the Cahokia 13.

Cathedral, Alton, Collinsville and Lincoln Triumph

Belleville Cathedral rolled to its seventh straight victory of the season last night by overwhelming Chaminade, 58-0, in a Catholic League game. It was Chaminade's eighth straight defeat.

Collinsville also stayed in the ranks of the undefeated with a 34-12 triumph over Wood River in a Southwestern Illinois Conference game. The Kahoks have won six games and tied one.

Alton beat Belleville, 12-7, and Lincoln of East St. Louis gave Mattoon its second loss of the season, 45-14.

216 Deer Killed As Season Starts

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 29 (UPI)—A total of 216 deer were reported killed during the first hours of the three-day deer season yesterday.

Polk and Union counties in southern Illinois led the totals with 25 each, followed by Williamson with 21.

The conservation department said early-morning fog contributed to a slow start for the season.

The duck season apparently got off to a similar sluggish begging at noon.

New Mexico Romps Over Denver 41-6

DENVER, Oct. 29 (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Joe Cromartie bolted 56 yards for one touchdown and set up another with an 85-yard sprint in leading New Mexico to a 41-6 football victory over Denver last night.

Denver presented the Lobos with a cheap touchdown in the first 27 seconds, and from then on New Mexico pulled steadily away to its first Skyline Conference triumph in three starts. Denver is winless in four Skyline games.

Fredericktown Nips Northwest, Wins Mineral Area Title

Fredericktown High clinched the Mineral Area Conference football championship with a 21-19 victory over the visiting Northwest of House Springs last night. The winners trailed in the final quarter, 19-14, before Hal Lane tallied the winning touchdown.

Flat River spoiled Farmington's homecoming, 25-20, and Festus did likewise by beating Crystal City, 13-0. De Soto, scoring in the first three quarters, defeated Ste. Genevieve, 20-12.

Kel Nagle Trails By One Stroke

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 29 (AP)—Darrell Welch, a 24-year-old Sydney pro, shot a 7-under par 68 yesterday and took a one-stroke lead in the $12,000 open golf tournament at the Huntingdale course. It is a 6941-layout.

After 54 holes, Welch had 218—one better than British Open Champion Kel Nagle, who had a 75 yesterday.

Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, was sixth after a third round 75 for a total 224. Peter Thomson, former British Open champion, had 73 and was well back at 228.

Brown Toys With Andrade, Keeps Title

Defender's Ninth Win Is Record

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (AP)—Joe Brown today held the record for successful lightweight title defenses—his ninth—after outpointing Cisco Andrade.

Brown, who spent almost as much time laughing as punching last night, toyed with Andrade to score a unanimous lopsided decision. Referee Lee Grossman scored the fight 12-3, judge Tommy Hart 14-1 and judge George Latka 13-3. The champion from Houston weighed 134½ and Andrade of suburban Compton 133½.

The victory broke a record of successful title defenses in the lightweight division which Brown had shared with the old-time great, Benny Leonard.

Dancing Angers Andrade.

The 34-year-old Brown, sidestepping and connecting with good lefts whenever he felt like it, made the 15-round title bout more like a training camp sparring session. He started laughing and dancing around Andrade in the seventh round but stopped when the angered challenger retaliated with one of his few flurries of the night. Brown resumed his laughing in later rounds.

Brown's famed right seldom connected, but he didn't need it. His left jabs to the head and left hooks to the stomach were more than enough.

Andrade, 30, got under Brown's lengthier reach in the eighth and landed what looked like the hardest punch of the fight—a corking right to the champion's jaw. It hurt Brown.

The challenger said Brown shook him up in the fifteenth. Cisco added that before that, the champion didn't hurt him.

Andrade accused Brown of loafing and running backward, but the champ commented:

"I'm an old man. That's why I was trying to rest in the middle rounds. I wasn't playing around. But he didn't open up the way I expected him to."

Crowd Boos Champ.

Most of the crowd of 8500, predominantly Mexican-American was for Andrade and booed Brown's failure to mix in a slugging match. Andrade was only the third of nine men to oppose Brown since he became champion to end up on his feet at the final bell.

"I beat him with the left hand," said Brown. "I tried for a knockout, but I couldn't get just the right shot at him."

Andrade said the left jabs were flicks, not punches, and added: "how are you going to hit someone who's running from you?"

Brown said he considered the bout "a tune-up" for another title fight this year against either Eddie Perkins of Chicago or Len Matthews of Philadelphia.

The champion had been guaranteed $40,000, and Andrade a 20 per cent of the gross gate. The promoters estimated the gross at $55,000.

Thompson Risks Title Shot Tonight

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Federico Thompson, an Argentine by way of Panama, meets Gaspar Ortega, an Indian from Mexico, in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight. (The fight will be televised at 9 p.m. St. Louis time on Channel 2.)

At stake for the Argentine is a title fight with Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret, the world welterweight champion, at the Garden Dec. 10.

Thompson, unbeaten in his last 26 fights, is a 2-1 favorite.

It's a big risk for the 32-year-old Thompson. If he should lose decisively it will cost him the Paret fight, which he has all wrapped up.

Bills Down Air Force Kickers, 3-1

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 29 — Bob Trigg's assists led to each St. Louis University score as the Billikens defeated the Air Force Academy, 3-1, in a soccer match yesterday.

Inside forward Don Range scored twice, at 13:15 of the first period and at 18:15 of the final quarter. Tom Barry, subbing for Jerry Balassi at outside left, made the other Billiken goal early in the final period.

Dick Guild, on a pass from Dave Pederson, scored for the Falcons at 3:15 of the second period, but the Air Force got only a few more shots at the goal.

Four players were evicted for fighting, Trigg and Mike Shanahan of the Bills and Jack Taylor and Pederson of Air Force.

Culver-Stockton Wins Over Tarkio, 28-14

CANTON, Mo., Oct. 29 (AP)—Culver-Stockton dumped Tarkio, 28-14, last night. The backbreaker was an 88-yard touchdown run by halfback Bob Scheveling.

The Wildcats, leading 14-7, stopped Tarkio on the one-yard line late in the third period after the Owls had a first down on the 5. Four plays later, Sheveling broke loose for the long one.

Scheveling also scored the second TD on a one-foot plunge after a 71-inch march, breaking a 7-7 halftime tie.

Bill Crowe's 5-yard run ended a 64-yard scoring drive that made it 28-7. Tarkio gained the tie on a 38-yard scoring pass, Bob Patton to George McVicker.

Filipinos Lose

BRISBANE, Australia, Oct. 29 (AP)—All four members of the Philippine Davis Cup team were eliminated in straight sets in the first round of the Queensland tennis tournament. The Filipinos arrived last week to prepare for their meeting with the United States in the interzone cup finals next month.

Oakland Surprises N.Y., 28-27

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (UPI)—Whether it's professional football or college, you can't beat hustle, says Eddie Erdelatz, and that's why his Oakland Raiders are the surprise team of the American Football League.

"These kids have as much hustle as any team I've ever been associated with," Erdelatz said after his Raiders' 28-27 upset victory over the New York Titans last night at the chilly, rain-soaked Polo Grounds.

In the other A.F.L. game at Boston, the Los Angeles Chargers avenged their season's worst beating when they drubbed the Patriots, 45-16.

The victories by Oakland and Los Angeles tightened the A.F.L.'s Western Division race considerably. The Denver Broncos, who play the Dallas Texans tomorrow, lead with a 4-2 record. Los Angeles is 4-3 and Oakland 4-4.

In the Los Angeles-Boston game, the passing of Jack Kemp, who had been out with a shoulder injury, the running of Paul Lowe and two big plays by the defensive unit made a rout of the game.

Los Angeles	7	21	7	10	—45
Boston	0	0	14	2	—16

LA—Ferguson 1 plunge (Agajanian kick).
LA—Kemp 1 plunge (Agajanian kick).

Three Teams Tied

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29 (AP)—Cleveland moved into a tie with Springfield and Quebec for first place in the American Hockey League last night by defeating Hershey, 5-1.

Rich Races Scheduled For Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (UPI)—A total of $398,670 in stakes purses will be offered today in racing's top events at Garden State Park and Aqueduct.

The world's richest race, worth $287,970, is a mile and one-sixteenth test with 15 2-year-olds competing at Garden State. The Harbor View Farm entry of Roving Minstrel and Garwol are top choices to take the winner's share of the rich prize.

Willie Shoemaker will be up on Roving Minstrel and Ismael Valenzuela will be aboard Garwol. Itsa Great Day (Bill Hartack), Carry Back (John Sellers) and Try Cash (Joe Culmone) are rated close behind.

At Aqueduct Kelso, owned by the Bohemia Stable, has a chance to wrap up the 3-year-old crown and take another step toward the "Horse of the Year" award in the $100,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup.

Eddie Arcaro attempts to ride Kelso to his seventh victory in eight starts this year. Cain Hoy Stable's Bald Eagle is expected to give Kelso the most trouble among the field of nine for the two mile grind. Manny Ycaza will be in the saddle.

How They'll Line Up For Richest Race

Warriors, Celts Gain Second Wins

BOSTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Boston's defending champions and the Philadelphia Warriors are losing no time showing that they once again are the class of the Eastern Division in the National Basketball Association.

The Celtics, who beat Philadelphia by 10 games last season, and the Warriors have each won two games without a defeat. No. 2 for the Celtics was a 110-101 decision over the New York Knicks last night and No. 2 for the Warriors was a 122-120 squeaker over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Bill Sharman sparked a last period scoring spree as the Celtics broke a close game wide open at Madison Square Garden and handed the Knicks their fourth setback in five games. Sharman scored eight points as the Celts opened up a 13-point margin. He ended with 20 points, two less than teammate Bill Russell. Willie Naulls was high for New York with 24.

Ed Conlin's field goal at the game-ending buzzer gave the Warriors their victory at Philadelphia. It was a 30-foot set by the former Fordham ace, who came to Philadelphia two weeks ago in a trade with the Hawks. Wilt Chamberlain, playing 40 minutes, Paul Arizin and Tom Gola paced the Philadelphia attack with 29, 25 and 21 points, respectively. Elgin Baylor was the Lakers' leader with 28.

Miami Rally Tops Boston College, 10-7

MIAMI, Oct. 29 (AP)—Boston College is still looking forward to its first football victory, but the Eagles can look back with pride on a battle they gave the heavily-favored Miami Hurricanes before dropping a 10-7 decision last night.

STUDENTS 874-312 FOR KENNEDY IN ST. LOUIS U. POLL

Students at St. Louis University voted for Senator John F. Kennedy by a wide margin yesterday in a mock presidential election.

The vote was 874 for Kennedy and 312 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The balloting took place in the lobby of the university's gymnasium. All students were invited to participate. Voters had to show a student identification card, and each card was stamped to discourage persons from voting twice.

The election was sponsored by the Young Republicans and Young Democrats on the campus.

10 PERSONS OPPOSE PERMIT FOR HOSPITAL ON RUSSELL

Ten persons who live in the vicinity of the 3400 block of Russell boulevard yesterday appealed to the City Board of Adjustment a ruling by the Board of Public Service granting a zoning exception permit for construction of a hospital at 3450 Russell.

In their appeal petition, the residents said the granting of the permit is not in the best interests of the neighborhood in that construction of a hospital will result in property depreciation and create a parking and traffic problem. A public hearing on the appeal was scheduled for Nov. 9 at City Hall.

The proposed hospital would be established in what is now a partly finished building originally intended as a home for elderly members of the Christian Science faith. When the investors ran out of money, the structure was taken over by Bernard H. Tureen, St. Louis hotel owner, who plans to complete it as a hospital containing 175 to 200 beds. The area is zoned for multiple dwellings.

CONTINUED JOBLESS PAY CLAIMS UP 448 FOR WEEK

Continued claims for unemployment insurance in St. Louis and St. Louis county totaled 12,732 in the week ended yesterday, a rise of 448 from last week's total of 12,284, and up 2016 from the number in the comparable week of last year, it was reported today.

It was the twelfth consecutive week that the number of continued claims rose, according to Charles G. DeLargy, metropolitan manager of the Missouri Division of Employment Security. Initial claims filed this week totaled 2960, a decline of 308 from last week's total of 3268, and a decline of 19 from the 2979 filed the comparable week of last year.

The increase in continued claims indicates a prolongation of the normal seasonal layoffs in industries here, especially in garment and shoe firms, DeLargy said.

SUIT TO ANNEX 94-ACRE TRACT FILED BY DELLWOOD

A suit for declaratory judgment on a proposal by Dellwood to annex a 94-acre area was filed yesterday by the municipality in circuit court at Clayton. The Dellwood board of aldermen passed a resolution Monday to annex the area.

The petition said the annexation was reasonable and necessary to the development of Dellwood, and would facilitate the handling of traffic, police and sanitation regulations in the entire area. The area sought is northwest of Dellwood.

The municipality said in its petition that the tract would be developed for residential purposes in the near future. Mayor Forest F. Keelan said Dellwood has a population of about 4000 persons in the municipality's approximately six square miles area.

SIX DEAD IN TEXAS STORM

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29 (AP)—Cloudbursts struck Austin and surrounding areas during the night, taking six lives. Several motorists, swept down raging creeks, were missing today.

The deluges flooded homes and sent some residents fleeing for their lives with whatever clothes they could don hastily. Unofficial estimates ranged from several hundred homes flooded to as many as 1000 in Austin, the state capital.

WARNS MUNOZ VOTE MAY MEAN CHURCH PENALTY

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 29 (AP)—A warning of possible excommunication for any Roman Catholic voting for or supporting Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic party was issued today by the chancellor of the diocese of Ponce.

The three Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico assailed Munoz Marin's ruling party anew yesterday in a second pastoral letter, saying the party is anti-Christian and that voting for it in the island's coming elections would be a sin.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Victor M. Nazarious, the Ponce chancellor, was quoted in the Spanish language newspaper El Mundo as saying: "Any Catholic preaching or publicly supporting the Popular Democratic party's program, with its heretical content, not only commits sin but also can be excommunicated (cut off from the church's sacraments), according to Cannon 2316 (from the church's body of Cannon law."

Archbishop Declines Comment.

Msgr. Nazarious is the first to mention excommunication. None of the bishops signing the pastoral letter has discussed this. The office of Archbishop James P. Davis declined comment today.

America, a weekly put out by the Jesuits in New York, challenged the interference of the bishops in the island's politics.

Munoz Marin is a Catholic himself and favored to win reelection as Governor of the commonwealth, whose population is 90 per cent Catholic. The Popular Democratic Party is not connected with the Democrat Party in the United States.

The second letter was issued, the bishops said, to correct "certain inexact interpretations" of the first one, which had contained the orginal order against voting for the Popular Democratic Party. Archbishop James P. Davis said at first that whether it was obeyed was a matter between a Catholic and his conscience, while Bishops James E. McManus and Luis Aponte Martinez contended disobedience would be a sin.

'Could no Longer Keep Quiet.'

Yesterday in South Bend, Ind., Archbishop Davis told reporters the first letter was issued because he and the two other bishops "felt we could no longer keep quiet" after "20 years of constant disregard for moral principles as such and Catholic tradition."

The archbishop continued, "If democracy in Puerto Rico had achieved the maturity of democracy in the United States, the letter would not have been necessary." He denied that he and the other signers were playing politics.

The second letter said the real issue is "whether, to a Catholic, it is licit in conscience to vote against his own religious convictions," not whether the bishops "restrained or not the free expression of the voting right."

All three bishops said flatly that "it is not licit (religiously permissible) for Catholics to favor with their votes the establishment and spread of a morality without God."

The bishops' chief objections to Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic party are that it did not repeal a law authorizing the teaching of birth control, did not repeal until recently another law providing for the sterilization of some mental cases, and allowed public tolerance of common-law marriages.

'Open to Misinterpretation.'

The Jesuit-edited America said, "Catholics in the United States cannot but wonder about the nature of a situation which would persuade church leaders to embark on a course of action so open to misinterpretation, not to say futility . . . Such a step as that taken by the Puerto Rican bishops can only be viewed as a profound disruption of normal political processes."

The Popular Democrats are pitted against the Republicans, Independents and Christian Action party, the last of which was formed recently by Catholic laymen. In their latest letter the bishops had a warning for the other two non-religious oriented parties.

They said if the Republicans and Independents "were to carry their secularity down to its last consequences," which is what they accuse the Popular Democrats of doing, "then these two parties would fall without need of any further statement under the same condemnation . . ."

U.S. Urged to Protest to Vatican On Munoz's Behalf.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (UPI) — A private organization has asked the United States to protest to the Vatican what it calls "the calculated attempt by the Roman Catholic bishops, supported by the Vatican, to discredit and destroy Puerto Rican Gov. Munoz Marin."

The request was made in a letter to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter signed by G. Stanley Lowell, associate director of the Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State. It was made public yesterday.

Text of Speech by Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28 (AP).

Text of the address by the President at the dinner rally sponsored by the Nixon-for-President committee of Pennsylvania:

FELLOW CITIZENS:

We have ten critical days left in which to evaluate the issues and personalities of this campaign. We are thankful that we vote secretly in America, that regardless of party affiliation or party registration we can freely and conscientiously choose the best leader for our country.

Almost eight years have gone by since millions of us, Republicans, Democrats and independents, enthusiastically joined together to build a better America. We have had, I feel, a happy and fruitful partnership.

Measured in the dollars that have remained relatively stable these past 8 years, you, the American people, have come a long way since 1952.

You have increased personal income by 132 billion dollars, by 48 per cent.

Earnings Up Over One-Third.

You have increased average weekly earnings from $68 a week to $91 a week, by over a third.

You have increased your individual annual savings by 7 billion dollars, up 37 per cent.

You are building 70,000 elementary classrooms this year alone. That is 22,000 more than were built in 1952, almost 46 per cent more.

You have increased college enrollments from 2,000,000 to almost 3,500,000, up 75 per cent.

You have built 9,000,000 new homes, more than were ever built in the same length of time.

You have added 280 billion dollars in capital expenditures on plants and equipment, more in this job-making field than in the preceding 30 years.

You have increased the gross national product by 158 billion dollars, almost 45 per cent.

Our interstate highway system was talked about for many years, but not started. Now we are building 41,000 miles of these great new avenues of commerce and transportation, and paying for them as we go. When complete, they will save 4000 American lives a year.

The St. Lawrence Seaway was for decades a dream. Finally, it came true. At last we have brought the oceans of the world to the very heart of America.

In the meantime, you expanded social security, improved our national parks, forced passage of a good labor reform law, and took the only significant steps in civil rights in 80 years. You kept inflation down, balanced the budget four times, with another one on the way. You did these and a multitude of other things, and all this with a reduction of a quarter of a million in governmental positions.

Create Confidence.

Now, in all these years, a primary contribution of Government and national leadership was to create a climate fostering confidence, enterprise, and a willingness to venture and risk. At the same time, we stopped a wasteful war and prevented others, always with honor. By removing stifling economic controls, we allowed the men and women of America once again to concentrate on getting ahead. Under enlightened governmental policies you have been responsible for all this surging progress.

And what about our military strength?

It is the most powerful on earth.

Into our armed forces we integrated weapons of tremendous deterrence, many of them unknown eight years ago, through a program more than three times larger, in dollar amount, than only 10 years ago. And we have proof of the respect of the Soviets for our power and our resolutions: The Communists have been turned from a strategy of military penetration to a strategy of infiltration by political and economic means.

So, I am proud of you, proud of what you have done, and proud of what has been done by America. Let no one diminish your pride and confidence in yourselves or belittle these accomplishments. Never have Americans achieved so much in so short a time.

In glib political oratory we have heard this progress called "standing still".

If the great things you have done are "standing still," then I say America needs more of it.

Now, shortly you must select a new leader for our country. Because I know what he must face, because I feel so earnestly that your choice will have far-reaching effects, possibly for decades, I trust you will think it fitting that I share with you my deep personal convictions.

There are four key qualities by which I believe America would like to measure the candidates in this election. They are:

Character, ability, responsibility, experience.

From eight years of intimate association, I know Richard Nixon has these qualities and will use them wisely and decisively. So will Cabot Lodge. This is why I trust and believe the American people will elect this splendid team on Nov. 8.

must be manyk

Your President, of course, must be many things. As chief of state and of Government, he will be your spokesman, presenting to the world your ideals, your firmness in the right, your strength, in fact, the true image of your country.

To perform this task he must thoroughly think through the problems of our time. In this he cannot succeed unless he is free of rashness, of arrogance, of headlong action, of the inclination to easy compromise. I hear that one candidate says he will act first and act fast. America needs a man who will think first, and then act wisely.

We need a leader who will not, one day, say that the United States Government should intervene in Cuba and then retract it the next day.

We need a leader who will not, one day, say he would give up territory to the Communists and then change his mind on it a day or so later.

For upon such decisions can hinge peace or war. Upon your President will fall problems like disarmament, like nuclear testing, like Berlin and Quemoy, like Cuba, and, beyond these, the task of continuing to win the hearts and minds of millions of struggling peoples. By the morality, justice and steadiness of his decisions, he must be able to rally world support.

Your President will also be the commander-in-chief of your armed forces. National security will be one of his basic responsibilities and will depend greatly upon his understanding, born of experience. Just wanting to keep out of war will not be enough, as our three major wars in this century have proved. Your President must see to it that your armed forces are kept alert and modern, always ready to meet whatever threat may exist in the world.

A strong defense necessarily rests upon a strong economy. Defense is vastly expensive. Even now you are spending $10,000,000 a day on long-range ballistic missiles alone—more each day, every day, than the total spent for this purpose in all the years before I took office. As long as high level spending is necessary for your security, the commander-in-chief will need to be mindful that unless he holds firmly to policies that promote the growth of free, competitive, economic enterprise in the United States, the entire defense effort will be weakened.

I have given these few examples of presidential duties to make clear the momentous significance to you and your children of your vote on Nov. 8.

I have lived a fairly long and full life, so I tend to think of this nation in terms of my children's and grandchildren's problems. In thinking of their future I am profoundly concerned by some statements in this campaign that have had world-wide circulation and have cruelly distorted the image of America. These statements demonstrate an amazing irresponsibility. They demand, from me, emphatic correction.

This week Pravda, one of Moscow's propaganda newspapers, reproduced speeches of American politicians bewailing alleged weaknesses of our country. The Soviet leaders are gleefully quoting these same speeches in their effort to prove that our influence with other governments of the world is shrinking.

My friends, too many people are talking carelessly and ignorantly about America's standing, as if our republic were in a popularity contest.

Measure of Prestige.

The word prestige has become so badly used and mis-used as to have lost any real meaning. But of this we can be sure: The nation's prestige is not measured by the stridency of a politician's voice; it is measured by proved accomplishment.

Aside from the great economic development for which you have been responsible, we have, among other things, stopped a futile and costly war, moved to halt Communist advances in Viet-Nam, prevented attacks on Formosa, helped our Philippine friends eliminate Communist guerilla warfare, achieved, through the United Nations, a decent solution of the Suez affair, saved Iran, removed the sore spot of Trieste, by our sacrifices and co-operative effort strengthened free nations so badly used and misused as Communist bloc, and forged new ties with our neighbors to the South.

These successes were not won by any lack of strength or decisiveness. It is on such a record that Americans measure prestige rather than upon self-serving political assertions.

The important thing in our foreign affairs is that our nation's purposes and programs be right. Foreign problems color everything we do. We must select leaders who will know how to handle them. That they are right is proved by the eagerness with which the heads of other governments seek our counsel and support, and by our record in the United Nations.

More than 120 heads of state and government have visited our nation's capitol in the past eight years. The heads of government who went to the United Nations in its last session, excepting those from behind the Iron Curtain, requested to see me, as your chief spokesman, to assure me of their purpose of keeping their relations with us sound and firm. They had no doubts about America's prestige. All the new nations formed since 1952 have chosen the democratic form of government, not Communism.

Too many of our people are also talking loosely about relative military strength. Such talk is an exercise in calculated confusion. I remind these self-appointed experts that the past eight years comprise the only period in the entire history of the United States in which peacetime military preparation has been adequate and tailored to meet any possible emergency. I think I know whereof I speak.

Moreover, its development has been tuned to the continuity of the threat and to long-range goals, avoiding the wild fluctuations that too often follow upon the incidence of either panic or complacency. This is one of the important reasons why the United States is today militarily the strongest nation in the world.

In any case, whatever was America's image abroad at the beginning of this political campaign, it tends to be blurred today. This is because of unwarranted disparagement of our own moral, military and economic power. And what American is entitled to criticize the accomplishments of 180,000,000 others?

My friends, anyone who seeks to grasp the reins of world leadership should not spend all his time wringing his hands.

As another example of unwise politicking, I call attention to the recent speculation in gold on the London market.

Today your dollar is still the strongest currency in the world. We can keep it that way if we continue to hold firmly to the right policies on our budget, our money, and our national debt.

This we have worked tirelessly to achieve for eight years. We have successfully fought against the big-spending schemes and irresponsible monetary policies that lead to currency debasement and a weak dollar.

But recently, the price of gold in the free London market has risen above our official price of $35 per ounce. The foreign press reports that this development is based in part on a growing fear of the cheap money policies and radical spending promised in the Los Angeles platform.

If these promises should be carried out, the impact on our economic position, and on the free world, could be catastrophic. Very quickly, confidence in our dollar could be impaired.

This places an immediate obligation upon the political leaders who support that platform.

That obligation is to spell out, specifically, in dollars and cents, how they would pay for the many billions of additional federal spending pledged by that platform. We know they could not pay for them with high hopes alone.

If they would pay for these lavish programs by raising taxes, let them say so.

If they could cut going programs of the government, let them specify what they are.

But if they would pay for these programs by deficit spending, raising the debt of our children and grandchildren, and thereby debase our currency, let them so confess.

In such a case let them understand that they and their party assume not only full responsibility for the present dangerous speculation in gold, but also for the developing fear about the future worth of the American dollar.

In all these things we will need judgment and experience as our surest guide.

Of course "America must move." But forward, not backward. Not back to inflation, not back to bureaucratic controls, not back to deficit spending, not back to higher taxes, and bigger Government. We found all of these back in 1952.

America must continue to go forward, with maturity, with judgment, with balance. I see no sense in America galloping in reverse to what has been called a new frontier.

This is why we must not settle for leadership other than the very best. We cannot afford anything less.

And clearly the best is the team of Nixon and Lodge.

Dick Nixon is superbly experienced, maturely conditioned in the critical affairs of the world. For eight years he has been a full participant in the deliberations that have produced the great decisions affecting our nation's security and have kept us at peace. He has shared more intimately in the great affairs of Government than any Vice President in all our history.

He has traveled the world, studying at first hand the hopes and needs of more than 50 nations. He knows in person the leaders of those nations, knowledge of immeasurable value to a future President. He has represented us with distinction in situations demanding diplomacy, wisdom, coolness and courage.

Best Qualified.

By all odds, Richard Nixon is the best qualified man to be the next President of the United States.

Likewise unique in experience is Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Where could we find a man, better qualified by stature and service in the world arena, to assume the responsibility whose burden must always be the knowledge that at any instant he may have to assume the presidency of the United States?

Cabot Lodge will be prepared.

Here is a superlative team, prepared in every respect to lead our country responsibly and well.

Fellow Americans, in the days ahead, I ask you to reflect soberly on these thoughts. However you are registered, consider it only a passkey to a secret ballot governed solely by your own conviction and conscience. Cast your ballot not for party, nor for any other lesser consideration. Vote what is best for America.

In that spirit, and joined, I hope by a vast majority of Americans regardless of party. I shall vote for Vice President Nixon and Ambassador Lodge.

laughter and applause from the partisan gathering.

(Speaking of the American people President Eisenhower said, "If the great things you have done are 'standing still', then I say America needs more of it.")

Attacks Kennedy's Program.

Tailoring his address to his farm belt audience, the Vice President devoted part of his speech to an attack on Kennedy's agricultural program. He said it would require an average reduction of 20 per cent in the volume of agricultural commodities marketed by American farmers.

"I can tell you that it's the worst farm program certainly from the standpoint of the farmers that has ever been offered in the history of this country," he said.

"As far as the farmer is concerned, it would put upon him a straitjacket worse than anything he has ever experienced before and one that has certainly been described as the most drastic farm program in so far as controls are concerned that we can possibly imagine."

Nixon went to Davenport after making his first major campaign swing through Southern Illinois yesterday. The trip brought a repetition of the successes he enjoyed almost throughout the whistle-stop tour that he began last Monday.

There were no egg and tomato-throwing incidents yesterday such as those that marred his trip through Michigan Thursday.

The rail trip ended yesterday in Carbondale, Ill., where Nixon's group shifted to airplanes.

On his arrival in Davenport, Ia., an enthusiastic crowd met him at the airport. There were additional throngs along a 5.6-mile route to the business district.

Something of the flavor of a torchlight parade was added to the occasion by several hundred young "Nixon girls" who held lighted railroad flares along part of the route.

Comparable Crowds.

Kennedy spoke in Davenport Monday night. Local observers said the crowd that lined the street then was about as large as the one that greeted Nixon.

At Carbondale, the Vice President drew a substantially larger crowd than Kennedy did last Oct. 3. Both men spoke in the football stadium of Southern Illinois University. Nixon's crowd was particularly significant because Carbondale is in a congressional district held by the Democrats although it gave a majority to President Eisenhower in 1956.

Another sizable crowd turned out to greet the Vice President when his chartered plane landed at Quincy, Ill., in the late afternoon. Quincy is in a predominantly Republican section of Illinois.

Earlier Nixon received warm welcomes as his campaign train made stops at Danville, Tolono, Tuscola, Mattoon and Centralia, Ill. Except for Centralia and Carbondale, the areas he visited were predominantly Republican.

Nixon was to return to Washington tonight. Tentative plans call for him to rest before opening his final week of campaigning next Tuesday.

PLUGS PULLED, FOUR RADIO STATIONS MISS NIXON'S TALK

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Oct. 29 (AP)—Moments after Vice President Richard M. Nixon began speaking in Centralia yesterday, two microphone cords and a power cord were disconnected, apparently by someone in the crowd around the train platform.

Four Southern Illinois radio stations missed the 20-minute speech and one called on the FBI and the Federal Communications Commission to investigate.

The FBI office at Springfield, Ill., said it would look into the case.

FLOUR COMPANY EMPLOYES VOTE TO CONTINUE WALKOUT

Production employes of St. Louis Flour Mills, 5020 Shreve avenue, voted last night to continue a walkout which began Thursday as a result of a breakdown in talks over settlement of grievances.

J. J. Mooney, district representative of the American Federation of Grain Millers, said the 200 members of Local 109 voted two to one to continue the unauthorized walkout. Mooney said he and the union grievance committee had urged a return to work, pending correction of the men's complaints.

Mooney said federal conciliators had offered to participate in discussions with the company. He said shifting employes to other work, combining jobs and a speed up of production were the principal grievances.

Last night's meeting was at the Roosevelt Hotel.

RED BACKDOWN INDICATED ON CUBA ROCKETS

MOSCOW, Oct. 29 (AP)—The official news agency Tass has issued its version of what Premier Khrushchev told Cuban newspaper men about the promise of Soviet rocket support against any United States aggression.

Some American sources here were tempted today to interpret the Tass version as a slight pull at the rug under Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, who has been using the rocket promise in his arguments with the United States.

The Tass account issued yesterday quoted Khrushchev as saying that "promised rocket aid to Cuba should be considered symbolic," and again that he would like his statement "regarding aid to Cuba in case of armed aggression against that country really to be symbolic."

The news agency further quoted him: "It is essential that the imperialist threat of intervention against Cuba should not materialize into military operations and then there will be no need to confirm the reality of our statement about armed assistance to the people of Cuba against aggression."

The interview was given a week ago to a group of Cuban newspaper men, including editor Carlos Franqui of the Havana newspaper Revolucion.

(Revolucion said Khrushchev was asked if Soviet missiles were ready to assist Cuba in case of need and that he replied: "Unquestionably . . . but it's better that there be no aggression, as we will do everything possible to avoid using our rockets." The newspaper said Khrushchev hoped his promise would remain symbolic.)

Khrushchev's original promise was made in a speech to school teachers in Moscow on July 9. At that time, he said, "speaking figuratively, in case of necessity, Soviet artillery can support with their rocket fire the Cuban people if aggressive forces in the Pentagon dare to start intervention against Cuba."

Tass quoted him as telling the Cubans last Saturday "Cuban leaders realize perfectly well that only the people can assure victory in the stubborn struggle against imperialists and colonialists, for a popular regime, for a real government of the people."

The sympathies of the Soviet people and of all "toilers of the world are on the side of the Cuban people in their struggle for independence, freedom and progress," he added.

GOV. WILLIAMS HITS NIXON'S 'CONTRIVED OPTIMISM'

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan assailed Vice President Richard M. Nixon's "contrived optimism" and "complete misunderstanding" of the nation's labor problems in a talk yesterday in Godfrey.

Addressing a Democratic rally at the Godfrey Civic Center, Gov. Williams said that instead of sharing the average man's concern over problems, "Nixon has chosen to leave the people's welfare entirely up to Divine Providence." He told about 150 party dignitaries that it was "time to end the Eisenhower-Nixon drift."

The Vice President, he said, "is going around the country saying we've never had it so good." But, Williams continued, a recent report by the Labor Department shows that 6 per cent of the nation's labor force is unemployed and the rate of unemployment has been 5 per cent in 30 of the last 36 months.

DR. E. P. MEINERS MEMORIAL SERVICES WILL BE MONDAY

Memorial services for Dr. Edwin P. Meiners, physician and amateur entomologist, will be at 10 a.m. Monday at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City.

Dr. Meiners died yesterday at St. Luke's Hospital following a heart attack. He was a staff physician at the hospital. He owned a large insect collection which he gave to the University of Missouri. He was an authority on medical entomology.

He was 67 years old and lived at 5915 Pershing avenue. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian M. Meiners; two sons, Edwin P. Meiners Jr. and Dr. Theodore M. Meiners, and a daughter, Mrs. W. E. Boughnou Jr.

WOMAN HELD SUSPECTED OF ILLEGAL OPERATION

Mrs. Creola Prince was arrested last night and booked suspected of performing an illegal operation on an 18-year-old unmarried woman last Sunday.

Mrs. Prince, who, police said, is under bond on a similar charge, was identified by the woman, who reported that the operation was performed in the kitchen of the Prince home, 814 Salisbury street. The woman entered St. Luke's Hospital several days later for treatment for an infection.

Louis Council on Human Relations.

Aldermen who introduced the bill are: DeWitte T. Lawson, Nineteenth Ward; John T. Curry, Fifth; Lawrence Woodson, Twentieth; Wayman F. Smith Jr., Eighteenth; Archie Blaine, Sixth; William L. Clay, Twenty-sixth; Harold I. Elbert, Twenty-eighth; Aldermanic President A. J. Cervantes, Alfred I. Harris, Twenty-second, and T. H. Mayberry, Fourth.

Alderman Elbert is the only Republican in the group.

The Council on Human Relations would have the right to initiate or receive complaints, to investigate them and to try to adjust the complaints.

Right to Investigate.

Either the council or its anti-discrimination division would have the power to hold hearings, either public or private, to issue subpenas and compel attendance of witnesses, and to take testimony under oath. Refusal to obey subpenas would be certified to the city court for appropriate action.

Under the procedure set up in the bill, a person who believes himself the object of discrimination prohibited by the bill would file a complaint with the council. The complaint would state the name and address of the alleged offender or respondent and set forth the circumstances. The complaint would have to be filed within 30 days of the occurrence of the act complained of.

An investigation would be made by the anti-discrimination division to determine whether probable cause existed to believe an offense has been committed.

A failure to take action within 90 days after the filing of the complaint would automatically dismiss it.

If conciliation efforts should fail, the division could certify the case directly to the City Counselor for prosecution. In the alternative, it could issue a notice, with a copy of the complaint, to the respondent, requiring him to answer the charges at a hearing before the division.

Would Issue Order.

If the complaint were upheld, the division would issue its findings of fact, and file with the council an order requiring the respondent to end the discrimination. An appeal could be taken by either party to the council within 20 days.

All complaints, answers, investigation, conferences and hearings would be held confidential except at the request of the complainant for public disclosure.

Violations would be misdemeanors, punishable by a fine of $25 to $500.

A resolution offered by Aldermen Clay and Elbert, congratulating six large cafeteria operators for ending segregation of customers, was adopted unanimously by the board.

Another bill, introduced by Alderman Smith, would prohibit the erection of moving signs that might prove a traffic hazard. Traffic officials recently criticized plans by Television Station KTVI to erect a sign a short distance from the Express Highway near Berthold and Hampton avenues that would give the news in a running band of lights.

Bill on 'Traveling' Signs.

Under Smith's proposed bill, no permit for the erection of a "traveling" or moving sign within 500 feet of, or visible from, a public street or highway would be issued unless it were submitted to the traffic commissioner for a determination of whether it would be a traffic hazard. Such a determination could be made only after a public hearing held within 10 days after the application is received by the traffic commissioner.

The bill defines as traffic hazards the detracting of a driver's attention, causing traffic congestion, causing imprudent operation of a motor vehicle or interfering with the effective operation of traffic signals. A finding that the proposed sign might cause any of these conditions would require refusal of the permit.

President Cervantes offered a resolution which pointed out that the City Plan Commission had approved a far-reaching plan for renewing the downtown business district, part of which calls for a park and office building on the site of the old Post Office at Eighth and Olive streets.

The resolution, which was passed by the board, urged all proper authorities to make prompt disposition of the old building, relocate its facilities and clear the site in the interest of the continuing program of city rejuvenation.

The board approved a bill appropriating $250,000 for purchase of land near Lambert-St. Louis Field to protect the airport's southwest-northeast runway now being extended.

Another measure authorized the Board of Public Service to enter into a new three-year contract for furnishing, maintaining and cleaning street lights. The present contract expires Tuesday.

A bill was introduced to appropriate $82,000 for continued inspection of buildings in the rehabilitation areas of Shaw, Compton-Eads, West End, Fountain Park and Fairgrounds.

Action was delayed again on a proposal to increase the pay of top city employes. The Aldermanic Ways and Means Committee is waiting for answers to questionnaires sent to all department heads.

BOY HURT WHEN CHEMICALS CARRIED IN POCKET EXPLODE

Edwin W. Howald Jr., 16 years old, suffered severe burns and lacerations when a vial of chemicals exploded in his pocket in an automobile in which he was being driven home from De Andreis High School yesterday.

Howald was in the rear seat of a car driven by his brother, Dennis, a student, when the chemicals exploded in front of Engine House No. 24, 5245 Natural Bridge avenue. Dennis stopped the car and Edwin ran in the engine house and collapsed on the floor. Firemen summoned a nurse, who administered first aid until an ambulance arrived.

At DePaul Hospital the youth was pronounced suffering from burns and lacerations of the face, arms, body and eyes. He told officers he had taken small quantities of potassium chlorate and phosphorus from the school laboratory without permission. When riding home with his brother he mixed the chemicals in a vial and placed the container in his pocket. The explosion followed. The Howald home is at 3806 Philbrook street, Pine Lawn.

BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL EVACUATED ON BOMB CALL

Students and personnel of Belleville Township High School were evacuated yesterday after school authorities received an anonymous telephone warning that a bomb would explode there at 10:45 a.m.

Students left the building at 9 a.m., using the fire drill procedure, and police were notified. During a two-hour search by police, students waited at Sunken Gardens, an athletic field in front of the school.

School authorities reported that the telephone caller said the bomb had been placed in the cafeteria. Police searched the entire school, including student lockers, but failed to uncover a bomb. Classes were resumed at 11 a.m.

WALTER GOODPASTER GETS 199-YEAR TERM

METROPOLIS, Ill., Oct. 29 (UPI) — Walter J. Goodpaster, brother of White House aid Andrew J. Goodpaster, was found guilty yesterday of murdering a mother of 12 children and was sentenced to 199 years in prison.

Goodpaster, a Herrin (Ill.) optometrist, was convicted of fatally shooting Mrs. Margaret Strunk last Christmas morning.

The jury deliberated only three hours before returning the verdict. Judge Clarence C. Wright then imposed the sentence.

Under Illinois law Goodpaster will have to serve 66 years before becoming eligible for parole.

Goodpaster's brother is a staff secretary in the White House.

Goodpaster, 47 years old, had been accused of shooting Mrs. Strunk with a carbine. A companion of Mrs. Strunk's, Bernard Dobraski Jr., said a dispute started when Goodpaster's dog began barking at them. Goodpaster claimed Mrs. Strunk and Dobraski were throwing stones at the dog, Dobraski said.

Goodpaster, testifying in his own defense, insisted he was with his family opening Christmas presents when the shooting occurred.

The prosecution had asked for the death penalty for Goodpaster.

After imposing the sentence, Judge Wright granted the defense 30 days in which to file a motion for a retrial.

than 22,000 tons of Communist arms and ammunition have arrived between Aug. 1 and Oct. 27.

In the first Russian reaction to the United States action, the Soviet Tass news agency accused the State Department of "laying a smokescreen to cover up the preparation of aggressive actions against Cuba."

Tass, in a New York dispatch, called it a laughable pretext that United States Marines would disembark at Guantanamo for a weekend of rest and recreation.

Castro Boast of Increasing Military Strength.

HAVANA, Oct. 29 (AP)—Fidel Castro boasted today that with every week "we will have thousands more organized defenders in Cuba."

"Our enemies know, too," said the bearded Prime Minister, "that with every day that passes their hopes of successfully invading Cuba are less."

Castro spoke at the graduation of 55 new army lieutenants at nearby Managua military base. He told a television audience that in addition to army officers, the base is training 500 leaders of the civilian militia.

As he spoke, a contingent of 1450 United States marines moved into Guantanamo Naval Base in Eastern Cuba for a weekend of rest and recreation. The announcement of the marines' plans drew attacks from the controlled Cuban press and prompted new charges of United States aggression against Cuba.

Castro attacked United States presidential candidates John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon as "two stupid leaders of Monopolistic cliques" who were "preaching aggression and intervention" against Cuba.

The Guantanamo Marine landing is expected to be an issue when Cuba presses aggression charges against United States in the United Nations' Monday.

The government-controlled press said the 300 Marines already at Guantanamo were polishing up their training with realistic combat exercises. A Marine has been killed and three have been injured by mines planted along the perimeter of the base, these reports said.

Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras declared yesterday that Cuban press reports of an invasion fleet assembled at Puerto Barrios in Guatemala were completely false.

The Cuban press almost ignored the departure last night of United States Ambassador Philip Bonsal, recalled to Washington for consultations. Few persons expected him to return.

immediately took crew, guards and passengers into custody in the airport building and sealed off the two-engine plane. The pilot and wounded boy were sent to a Key West hospital.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation at Miami was notified and sent agents to question the occupants of the plane.

One report said the plane had 34 passengers, pilot, co-pilot and an undisclosed number of Cuban soldiers as guards.

The Havana radio identified the wounded pilot as Camdelerio Delgado and said "war criminals" were responsible for kidnaping the crew and the plane.

The co-pilot, identified as Gabriel Carreasco, was understood to have brought the plane in to its landing on Key West.

(The Associated Press said the co-pilot also received a superficial wound in the head.)

The government radio gave the last name of the dead army guard, one of several aboard, as "Castro."

GIRL, 13, SAVES BABY BY ORAL RESUSCITATION

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by Clara Takmajian, 13 years old, was credited by Granite City police yesterday with saving the life of 10-month-old Diana Hays.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hays, was being cared for at the home of a baby-sitter, Mrs. Ora Taylor, 841 Nedringhaus avenue, Granite City, when it began to choke. The parents are reported to be separated.

Mrs. Taylor, who has no phone at home, picked up the child and ran to a nearby confectionery. She attracted the attention of Clara, an eighth grade student, who was walking to the West Side Junior High School.

One of her companions suggested mouth-to-mouth breathing, which Clara had learned in a first-aid class at Lincoln Place Mission in Granite City. After a short time, the baby resumed normal breathing. The infant was taken to the Granite City Hospital, where it was treated and released. Clara lives at 1740 Olive street, Granite City.

U.S. PROTESTS TO RUSSIA ON DETENTION OF TOURISTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The United States has protested strongly against the arrest and seven-week detention of two Americans the State Department says were bonafide tourists in the Soviet Union.

The two, Mark I. Kaminsky, of Cass County, Mich., and Harvey C. Bennett, of Bath, Me., were arrested last summer. The Russians accused them of entering a restricted area. They tried Kaminsky and sentenced him to seven years' imprisonment after a trial in which Bennett was a witness. The sentence was suspended and the men were "expelled" from Russia.

The State Department announced yesterday that Edward L. Freers, minister counselor of the United States Embassy in Moscow, lodged this country's protest with the Soviet Foreign Office Thursday. It criticized holding the men incommunicado for seven weeks and accused the Russians of flagrant disregard of international custom in failing to tell the United States Embassy what had happened to them.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE PREDICTED BY JOHNSON

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29 (AP)—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson predicted yesterday a Democratic landslide "comparable to and possibly exceeding the victories of 1936" in the presidential race and in Congress.

Johnson said he had made a nationwide survey of key Democratic leaders and that he did not know of any section "where the spirit of party leaders is anything other than optimistic, buoyant and confident."

He released optimistic statements from Democratic Senators Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, George Smathers of Florida, Claire Engle of California and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Representatives John McCormack of Massachusetts and Mike Kirwin of Ohio and Governors Buford Ellington of Tennessee, Ralph Herseth of South Dakota, David Lawrence of Pennsylvania and Stephen McNichols of Colorado.

NEGRO FOOTBALL STAR SHOT AFTER GAME IN ARKANSAS

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 29 (AP)—A Negro high school football player was shot last night as he walked to a bus after a game.

Police said Roy Bils was struck in the chest. It was not known who fired the shot. Bils was taken to a hospital for surgery.

The Langston High team on which he played had tied Little Rock Mann High, 7 to 7. Both are Negro schools. Bils was a defensive star for Langston. The game was played in a stadium at the white high school.

Bils was shot as he was about to board a bus which was to take the team back to dressing rooms at the Negro school.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS JOIN IN IOWA RALLY FOR NIXON

DAVENPORT, Ia., Oct. 29 (AP)—Some of the students from two Catholic colleges in Davenport joined last night in the enthusiastic greeting which Republican presidential candidate Vice President Richard M. Nixon received.

The young Republicans from St. Ambrose College were led by the Rev. Father Francis Duncan who personally made large signs they were carrying. One read: "Welcome to Pat and Dick Nixon. On to victory."

The other school is Marycrest College.

SEOUL PROTEST TO JAPAN

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

TOKYO, Oct. 29—South Korea protested strongly yesterday against Japanese renewal of the agreement providing for the repatriation of Korean residents of Japan to Communist North Korea.

Minister to Japan Um Yo Sup delivered a formal note to the Foreign Ministry describing the agreement signed Thursday by Japanese and North Korean Red Cross representatives as a "possible stumbling block" to current negotiations aimed at "normalization" of relations between Japan and South Korea.

Mild Weather to Continue

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Mild weather is expected to continue in the St. Louis area through Monday, with a chance of rain sometime tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Heavy rains were reported in the 24 hours ended early today in central Texas, flooding homes, stranding motorists and disrupting utility service. An estimated seven inches of rain deluged Austin and forced about 200 persons to flee from their homes.

Rain also fell in other widely scattered areas of the country, but amounts were generally light. Showers fell along the East coast, in Colorado and New Mexico and along a line from southwest Wisconsin into Kansas. In the West, showers were reported in Idaho and western Montana with snow in the higher elevations.

Showers and thundershowers were forecast by tomorrow in parts of southern New England, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota, the Pacific Northwest and central and southern Plains states.

Low temperatures in Missouri this morning generally were in a range from 40 to 60 degrees.

Heating degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 12; the month, 176; the season, 183.

Cubans Seeking Haven in U.S.

Long line stretches from United States Embassy in Havana, with Cubans waiting for special interviews with embassy officials in the hope of gaining speedy admission to this country. With visa applications already filed, they seek to eliminate the usual year-long wait for the document. Hundreds of others, meanwhile, were lined up at another entrance to the embassy, eager to leave the troubled land of Fidel Castro and waiting to file their first applications for visas. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

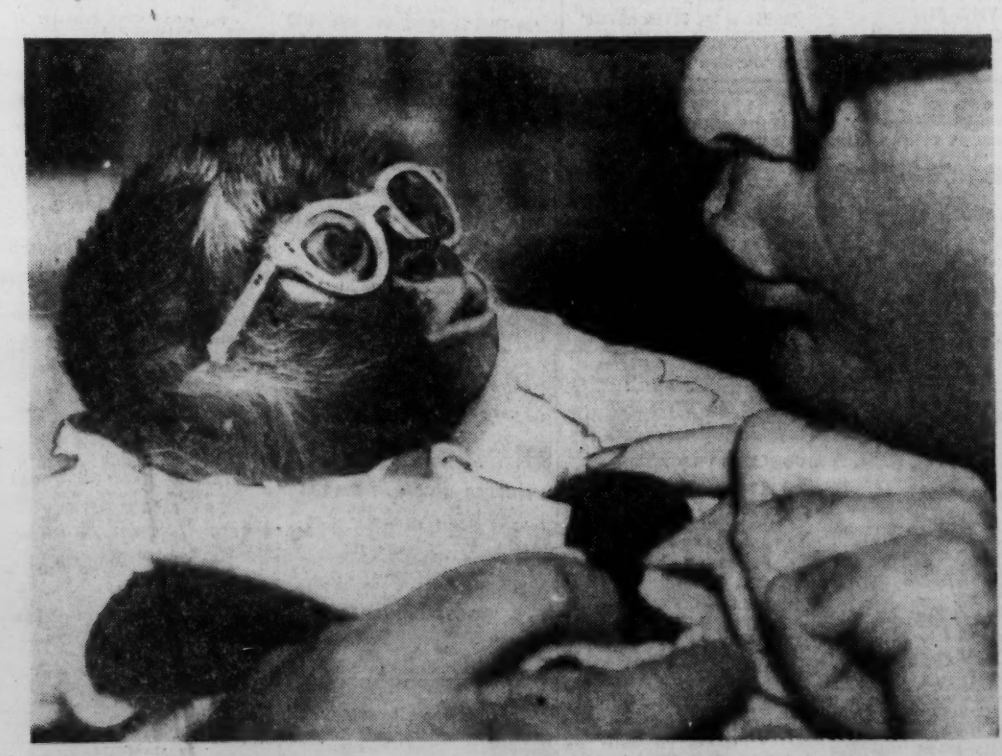

Hand of Fellowship

With the hand of fellowship taking the shape of a hand of bananas, Senator John F. Kennedy reaches for fruit [illegible] way by a fan overcome with Kennedy-for-President fervor at Nanticoke, Pa., yesterday. Making a strong bid for Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes, Kennedy remained in the state today to make a series of appearances at shopping centers at Philadelphia. —UPI Telephoto.

G.O.P. Teamwork

Vice President Nixon, a stranger to automobile seats these campaign days, lends an experienced hand to Mrs. Nixon as she negotiates the tricky passage from car trunk to sidewalk. They were arriving at their hotel at Davenport, Ia., last night as the Vice President wound up another day of whistle-stopping in Illinois and Iowa. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

Sight Restored

Optician Burton Glick exchanges grimaces with spider monkey he has fitted with special glasses at Washington, D.C., to round out a sight-restoration program. Program started last spring when the monkey's owner, Mrs. Ben Fainman, investigated its listless attitude and found it had become blind. Operations for removal of cataracts from both eyes followed, and restoration of normal vision, she hopes, with the glasses, which are kept in place with strong elastic. —UPI Telephoto.

Not Seeking Publicity

Photographer Jerry Crowder is on top of the action as Mrs. Tilman Raby moves in to enforce her demands for no publicity while being held at Knox County jail at Knoxville, Tenn., yesterday. Mrs. Raby, her daughter, Helen (right) and Lula Mae Mashburn were engaged in a running dispute with reporters and photographers after being charged with smuggling a pistol to Mrs. Raby's son, Clarence. A suspected murderer, he was shot to death while using the pistol in an attempt to escape from the jail. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

Drake Visits Indians

By Ramon Coffman

WHILE THE "GOLDEN HIND" was at anchor in a California bay, probably San Francisco Bay, Francis Drake and some of his men visited an Indian tribe.

The Indians in that tribe appear never to have seen whites before. They showed signs of wonder, and their actions indicated that they regarded their visitors as gods. They cried out "Oh!-Oh!" as though in prayer.

Drake tried to tell the Indians that they were in error. He pointed to the sky as the dwelling place of the white man's deity, but the natives failed to understand. It may have seemed that Drake was showing the sky as the place from which he had come.

Soon afterward the adventurers left the California coast. The old records say that they met with cold weather, but there is doubt about the farthest northward point they reached.

After a time, Drake ordered his pilots to steer westward across the Pacific. The "Golden Hind" reached several islands, including the Spice Island group.

Then the vessel was sailed southwestward across the Indian Ocean, and around the southern end of Africa. The next stretch was northward on the Atlantic and back to England, after an absence of two years and 10 months.

Queen Elizabeth was told of the return, and invited Drake to appear before her. While holding a long sword in her hand, she spoke in this manner:

"The king of Spain is angry about your deeds and would like me to send him your head. Here I have a sword which could be used to grant his request, but I have something different in mind."

The ceremony of knighthood then took place, and Elizabeth said, "Arise, Sir Francis Drake!"
